BORDER PATROL READY FOR NEW MEXICAN OUTBREAKS.

Border patrol ready for outbreaks.

In view of the threatened outbreaks by Mexican bandits the United States military authorities have taken all necessary precautions to protect American border towns. The photograph shows American three-inch pieces being moved to their stations on the border along the Rio Grande.

SHANTUNG SETTLEMENT IS STORM CENTER IN WORLD LEAGUE DEBATE

By J. Bart Campbell.

Washington, July 17.—Opposition in the senate to the Shantung settlement will continue despite any declaration Japan may make that she is prepared to relinquish full territorial rights within Kiau Chau or any other part of the Chinese province, Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho an uncompromising league of nations opponent stated today.

When the senate reconvened at noon Borah said he was prepared to call up his resolution requesting the president for the written protest against the Shantung pact which Secretary Lansing General Bliss and Henry White as three of the American peace commissioners, were said to have signed, while the peace commission was still engaged at Paris with Japanese demands.

Borah and Senator Sherman of Illinois were among the Republicans who announced that they were ready to renew the fight over the Shantung in the senate before the end of the day. Both Borah and Sherman planned to deliver addresses on the Shantung settlement in which they were to denounce it. Borah expressed the opinion that the American people "would not be fooled by any scrap of paper" Japan might have to offer in explanation for the Shantung robbery.

"Japan may try to camouflage her intentions regarding Shantung by stating that all she desires there are certain economic concessions, but the fact remains that she expects to control the port of Kiau Chau, the gateway to China and the railroads leading therefrom," Borah said. "She may prate about being prepared to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China inside of six months, but does anybody versed in the history of Japanese relations with the Chinese believe for a moment that she intends to get out of Shantung? Her promised withdrawal of her troops from Shantung means nothing. She could send her troops back to Shantung whenever she was ready to invent a pretext for doing so."

Borah was among those Republican senators who displayed keen interest in the International News Service dispatch from Paris late yesterday afternoon after a member of the Japanese delegation was reported stating:

"We are prepared to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China inside of six months. We are anxious to settle the whole question. We ask nothing better than a return of territory in accordance with the treaty of 1915. It is necessary, however, that China enter into negotiations with us, which hitherto she has declined to do."

Borah declared the statement to be "sheer bunk." Japan already controls 7 per cent of the mines of China," he declared. "She dominates Manchuria. She has gained a foothold in Shantung. She has China by the throat—economically, or territorially, call it whatever you please."

Administration senators on the other hand construed the Paris announcement as indicating that Japan was ready soon to define her position with respect to Shantung in a manner that would not only tend to clarify the situation, but cause the senatorial opposition to the Shantung provision of the peace treaty to dwindle.

Within the next 24 or 48 hours, official Washington expected today that Tokio would be officially heard from on Shantung and the president's supporters in the senate predicted that the opposition to the Shantung pact of "irreconcilables" like Sherman and Borah would eventually prove as unavailing as their opposition to the proposed entry of the United States into the League of Nations.

Republican senators other than Borah and Sherman, however, reiterated that the two-thirds vote essential to the ratification by the senate of the Shantung settlement, along with the rest of the peace treaty would not be forthcoming. Shantung was an issue, they added, which would be fought to a finish.

The senate foreign relations committee continued today its preliminary consideration of the peace treaty. It was regarded as a foregone conclusion that a majority report made by the Republicans in control of the committee and a minority report prepared by the administration senators would be sent to the senate with the resolution of ratification by which the senate is expected to go on record on the treaty itself.

"There will still be plenty of debate in the senate," commented Senator Lodge.

Neither Senator Lodge nor any other Republicans on the committee signified any desire to confer with the president at present on any aspect of the treaty. If they were provided with the information they sought from the state department, they would be satisfied, Senator Lodge explained. Whether they would accept the president's invitation to visit him at the White House they had not even discussed, they said.

SALE OF LOW PER CENT BEER WOULD DEFEAT PURPOSE OF PROHIBITION

Washington, July 17.—To allow the sale of 2-34 per cent beer would keep alive the liquor trade and defeat the purpose of national prohibition, declared Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the anti-saloon league of American yesterday before senate judiciary committee, conducting hearings on prohibition enforcement legislation.

The statement of Wheeler was in the nature of a reply to recent testimony of Samuel Untermyer before the same committee in which the attorney advised that the brewers be allowed to sell 2-34 per cent beer direct to the consumer.

"The friends of prohibition do not want an enforcement code unless it defines intoxicating liquor," Mr. Wheeler continued.

Mr. Wheeler told the committee "that every one of the 33 dry states had defined this term and local option states had also done so." He challenged Mr. Untermyer to show any court decision denying congress or a legislature the right to define terms.

"In view of this experience with the traffic in ninety per cent of the territory of this nation, congress cannot consistently adopt a weaker standard in defining the term than that which has been already enacted in these states," he said. "This means nothing can be sold for beverage purposes that contains more than one half of one per cent of alcohol.

"The brewers are just as responsible for the evils of the traffic as the retail liquor dealers," he added, referring to Untermyer's statement that "saloons are the kindergartens of crime."

CONSIDER WAY TO REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING

Washington, July 16.—Living costs presented a question second only to the peace treaty in the interest of the senate today.

Two movements were underway to secure information upon which legislative action may be taken to reduce the cost of living. Senator Gronna plans an exhaustive hearing on two bills designed for control of the packing industry which he believes will show interesting facts concerning high food costs and Senator Sherman of Illinois was today completing plans for an investigation of his living costs in the District of Columbia.

While this investigation is intended only to take up food costs in the District of Columbia, there were indications that its scope would be considerably widened.

Senator Capper of Kansas, a member of the special subcommittee appointed by Senator Sherman, has indicated that he will strive to show in the investigation some of the causes which are keeping food costs above normal. Carper, a champion of the farmer, has announced his intention to absolve the farmer from the blame of the high costs. He stated today that in his opinion the retail dealers are to blame to a large extent and pointed out that while cattle are selling for lower prices than several months ago, the retail prices on meats are not declining. Capper proposes to summon witnesses who can give information as to the high cost of wearing apparel and is firm in his belief that testimony will show that dealers are responsible for high prices.

Meanwhile a storm was brewing in the senate on the regulation of the packers. Senator Kenyon who is the author of one bill which would place the packers under government control, declared that there is a widespread movement on foot to create sentiment for the packers. At the same time there is also an anti-packer movement, evident from the large number of telegrams being received from householders demanding some action against the packers and high prices.

Such great pressure was being brought to bear for the lowering of living costs that it was predicted today by party leaders that some action would be taken, which would at least be an attempt at relief, as soon as the peace treaty has been disposed of.

SEVEN MEN CAUGHT.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Seven men were taken in a raid by members of the Loyal American Legion. One carrying "red" literature was held.

RANGY RANGER (TEXAS) CITIZEN SEVEN FEET SIX INCHES TALL AT FIGHT.

R. E. Madsen, aged 22, seven feet six inches tall, weight 250 pounds of Ranger, Texas, standing beside newspaper man of ordinary height at Toledo, Ohio, where he saw the Willard-Dempsey fight. He has a brother and sister six feet tall. His father is six feet two and his mother, five feet six.

FATHER IS GRANDFATHER TO HIS OWN CHILD NOW

Jersey City, N. J., July 18.—Can a man be his own child's grandfather? Can a woman be her own child's sister-in-law? If a father-in-law and daughter-in-law marry, how is anybody to keep track of the multiplicity of relations? As a start toward puzzling possibilities, Fred Schmidt, sixty years old of Haebruck Heights, N. J., and his daughter-in-law, Emma Schmidt, thirty-two, have procured a marriage license from the Jersey City Clerk.

WILL STOP OPERATING CARS ON JULY 30TH

Toledo, July 18.—Under present plans, The Toledo Railways and Light company will cease operating cars over the streets of Toledo July 30. Under an ordinance passed two weeks ago and signed by Mayor Schrieber, the company must remove its tracks, overhead wires and poles. Traction company officials say they will cease operations the day the outer ordinance takes effect. The trouble arose when the company raised the fare from six for a quarter to six cents straight with two cents for a transfer. It has been 12 years since the company had a franchise. Mayor Schrieber has asked that he be given support when the cars stop and has promised that workmen will be cared for in regard to transportation.

SOCIALISTS WILL GO INTO COURT

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Cleveland Socialists will go into court today in an effort to prevent the police from interfering with their open air municipal campaign.

The campaign was scheduled to start last night but the Socialist leaders were notified by the police that the meeting could not be held. The speakers and the crowd were on hand last night however, but after announcement that a protest meeting would be held Sunday the meeting adjourned.

AIRPLANE HITS POLE.

Norwalk, O., July 17.—Flying low an airplane knocked over one telephone pole and caught on another, tumbling the two aviators twenty feet.

AUTO BANDITS ARE HEAVILY GUARDED

Cleveland, Ohio, July 17.—Heavily guarded in the Lake county jail at Painesville to prevent possible violence from the citizens of Willoughby, one of whose residents was killed yesterday by Andrew and Patrick Keber, 20 and 18, auto bandits faced charges of first degree murder today.

Police hope to clear up responsibility for more than 100 burglaries by their arrest. Patrick Keber also confessed having taken part in the theft of a half dozen automobiles.

In addition to Earnest Gray who was instantly killed yesterday by the bandits there was a possibility that Bernard McCarthy may die. McCarthy was shot through the back, the bullet piercing his left lung. Physicians said today that his condition is critical.

MOCKS STUTTERER AND NOW HE'S GOT HABIT

New York, July 18.—Michael Bakun, of Brooklyn, probably will stutter for some time—also because he mocked Daniel Mucrine, one of his fellow workers, who has stuttered since birth. Bakun mocked Mucrine and the latter swung one on his jaw which broke it. When Bakun appeared in court he stuttered so badly he could hardly talk.

"Serves you right," said Magistrate Frothingham. "Defendant dismissed."

SIGNAL LIGHTS AND NOT DYNAMITE

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 18.—The police made a rush trip when Miss Rose Anon telephoned that she had discovered six sticks of dynamite on her porch. The cops tenderly lifted a cushion from a rocker, saw the "dynamite" and wrapping the sticks in a paper hauled them back to the police station. An expert was called and pronounced the explosive simply red signal lights used by railroad men, and videnty boys hid them for their Fourth of July celebration.

LOOK FOR FATHER OF DYING CHILD

Akron, July 16.—Police are looking for the father of little Frank Lebin, aged 3, who is near death in the children's hospital as the result of falling from a second story window. The father is said to have deserted the mother and five children a week ago. The child, after falling from the window, lay on the side walk for two hours, with a fractured skull before being found by other children.

ELECTRIC THIEF QUOTED THE BIBLE

Bellaire, Ohio, July 18.—"Thou shalt not steal" was the concluding sentence in a letter received by the Wheeling Electric Company in which was enclosed a check for $7.25 from a man who had tapped the wire of the company and had been using current without the company's knowledge. He believed the check would cover the amount.

WILL RECOVER AFTER FASTING 42 DAYS

Long Beach, Cal., July 18.—After having fasted for forty-two days in an effort to find relief for a malady which followed influenza, Miss Gladys Thorp of No. 431 East Sixteenth street, will recover, according to the belief of her physician. Because of the long fast it was believed she could not regain her strength but she is now able to take liquids.

LONDON SEES THIRD PARADE OF U. S. TROOPS

London, July 17.—London saw today the third parade of American soldiers since the beginning of the war. A composite regiment of 3,500 of General Pershing's veterans arrived at Waterloo station during the morning and marched down the Strand and through Birdcage walk, while Londoners madly cheered them.

The regiment will have a six day holiday and every doughboy will be treated as the honored guest of England. No camp work will be necessary as the men are billeted in hotels near the United States Embassy.

The British authorities have provided an elaborate program. Sol Joel, the theatrical magnate and James White, a Scotch contractor contributed $100,000 for the entertainment of the Americans.

The composite regiment is made up of eight men from every infantry company of six American divisions in addition to a scattering of marines. The doughboys will be reviewed by General Pershing and a gathering of notables at Hyde Park tomorrow morning. In the afternoon the American officers will attend the races at Sandown Park while the men are sightseeing. The National Sporting Club has prepared a special program for the entertainment of the visitors.

On Saturday evening there will be a display of fireworks at Hyde Park and also a parade. On Sunday the American officers will be taken on an excursion to Windsor castle, while the doughboys will be taken through the city in busses. In the evening the officers will be entertained at dinner at the Carlton hotel, while the men will visit the Palace theater.

The British fleet will be visited on Monday by both officers and men, the trip being made in a special steamer from South End, Tuesday will be given over to sightseeing.

The Americans will leave for France on Wednesday.

AMERICAN TROOPS WITHDRAW FROM NORTHERN RUSSIA

London, July 17.—The American troops in northern Russia have all been withdrawn with the exception of the railway guards and those who will be taken away soon, said a wireless message from the Bolshevik regime at Moscow today. Announcement was recently made in London that the British forces in northern Russia would be withdrawn with the exception of experts who would be left behind to assist the White Guard or anti-Bolshevik troops.

WILD BLACKBERRIES ARE VERY PLentiful

Unless great heat and drouth come within the next week or so, "blackberryin'" will become one of the favorite outdoor sports.

Bushes are hanging full of the luscious fruit, and to all appearances the crop of wild blackberries will be one of the largest in years.

Already the berries are beginning to turn but there are more unripe than ripened fruit yet on the bushes and it will be about a week before the harvest is at its height. The recent rains and cooler weather were the salvation of the wild blackberry crop, which would otherwise have fallen victim to the heat and drouth.

CLEVELAND TELEPHONE STRIKERS ALL SET FOR A LONG BATTLE

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Backed by the Cleveland federation of labor, the telephone strikers today settled down for a long struggle. The federation will assist the phone operators and electrical workers in financing their strike and will give other assistance.

The next move is expected to come from City Council Friday night when it will hear a report from the special committee which made an investigation of conditions prevailing in the strike.

The committee will charge that: The telephone companies are col-

FOOD PRICES IN GERMANY COLLAPSE

Berlin, July 17.—Prices on all food-stuffs have fallen with a crash in Berlin as a result of the lifting of the blockade. They began to show weakness when it was rumored that the embargo would be lifted, but the real drop came only when illicit dealers with huge concealed stocks brought them out in a virtual panic to unload before competing supplies entered Germany.

Tons of provisions are being shipped in from occupied territories, while everywhere in the city great stores of coffee, cocoa, butter, sausages and other supplies have made their appearance. Coffee prices fell from an average of 40 marks to below 20 yesterday and the product could easily be bought for 15. Other food prices were correspondingly cut.

Restaurants still maintain absurdly high prices, however, and apparently intend to continue to do so as long as possible.

CAR SERVICE IN BOSTON HALTED BY STRIKE OF 7,800 MEN

Boston, July 17.—Elevated subway and street car service in Boston and its suburbs was completely paralyzed today when 7,800 men and women employees of the Boston Elevated Railway company went on strike.

More than a million and a half persons were left without street railway transportation service. Not a wheel turned on the 532 miles of elevated company's track after 4 a. m. steam trains were jammed, automobiles and auto trucks came to Boston loaded with suburbanites, motorcycles and bicycles were pressed into service and every main thoroughfare entering the city was lined with long lines of people walking to work. Absence of disorder marked the early hours of the strike.

Boston, although virtually fleshless by a strike of 4,000 fishermen and boatless by a strike of several thousand and marine workers, is now carless.

In striking the union car men and women made good their threat to get out today unless the decision of the National War Labor Board on their demands for an eight hour day was received at 4 a. m. today.

AMERICA WILL GIVE ONLY "MORAL AID"

Paris, July 17.—The United States will give only "moral aid" if the peace conference decides to take military action against the Hungarian and increase the military measures in Russia, according to the American delegates today. It would be limited to furnishing supplies it is believed.

Greece's claims in Asia Minor were presented to the conference by M. Venizelos, the Greek premier, on Wednesday afternoon.

WHEELING W. VA., JULY 18.—FRANK J. BOSTOVIS FOUND HIMSELF IN A BOX FIX WHEN HIS BEST GIRL PRESSED HIM FOR THE AUTOMOBILE WHICH HE PROMISED TO BUY HER. FRANK'S WHOLE BANKROLL WAS LESS THAN $20, SO HE PLACED A GAG IN HIS MOUTH, TIED HIS WRISTS AND LAY DOWN ON THE ESIDEWALK. TO THE POLICE MEN WHO FOUND HIM, BOSTOVIS TOLD A STORY OF HAVING BEEN ROBBED OF $900 JUST THE AMOUNT OF MONEY HE NEEDED TO BUY THE AUTO FOR HIS GIRL. HIS TALE DIDN'T SOUND GOOD TO THE OFFICERS AND HE FINALLY CONFESSED.

Youngstown, O., July 17.—Peter Cicci, three, is dead, shot by his brother, John, 7, during a cowboy game.

EIGHT BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED IN EXPLOSION

Berlin, July 16.—via London, July 17.—Eight guards are missing and are believed to have perished in an explosion of two ammunition sheds at Hohenschoenhausen, near Berlin, today. Fire followed the explosion.

A communist plot is suspected, as there are evidences that the fire was of incendiary origin. Tens of thousands of mines, explosive caps and fuses were destroyed.

The terrific detonation broke windows in houses several miles from the scene of the explosion. An investigation is under way.

ROBBED SELF TO FOOL HIS BEST GIRL

Wheeling, W. Va., July 18.—Frank J. Bostovis found himself in a box fix when his best girl pressed him for the automobile which he promised to buy her. Frank's whole bankroll was less than $20, so he placed a gag in his mouth, tied his wrists and lay down on the esidewalk. To the police men who found him, Bostovis told a story of having been robbed of $900 just the amount of money he needed to buy the auto for his girl. His tale didn't sound good to the officers and he finally confessed.

JAPAN RESENTS ALLEGATIONS AGAINST HER

Paris, July 17.—The statement made by a member of the Japanese peace commission in an exclusive interview with the International News Service late yesterday that Japan was ready to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China within six months, and resents allegations that she intends to hold Kiau Chau in perpetuity, aroused great interest in peace conference circles today. Neither the Chinese delegates in the far eastern problem have thus far commented upon the statement.

"We are prepared to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China within six months," said the Japanese delegate. "We are most anxious to settle the whole question. We ask nothing better than to return the territory in accordance with the treaty of 1915.

"It is necessary, however, that China enter into negotiations with us, which hitherto she has declined to do."

The Japanese delegates told the International News Service that French assertions that Baron Makio had handed the big four a secret written undertaking to restore Kiau Chau to China, were untrue.

"Such a written promise is already incorporated in the 1915 treaty and in an interchange of notes in September, 1918," he said. "The Japanese delegation would allow no plenipotentiary to doubt the sincerity of that pledge by asking additional written assurances."

"It is true that verbal reassurances were given the big four in this respect but no formal secret written instrument was presented. This would have been entirely superfluous in view of our existing formal undertakings."

W. C. T. U. TO GET HALF OF THE PROFITS

Guarantors of the Redpath Chautauqua, which will visit this city soon are now selling tickets for the annual affair.

These guarantors have guaranteed the sale of $1,500 worth of the tickets insuring the Redpath people of their share in the proceeds. Above this amount the local W. C. T. U. will get one half of the amount sold, the other half going to the Chautauqua Company.

The Redpath people are promising a big and interesting after-the-war program for this season and their Chautauqua is arousing more than the usual interest.

The dates are July 28 to August 3.

PREVENT JAIL DELIVERY.

Tiffin O. July 17.—The courage of Mrs. D. J. McBride and Mrs. R. C. Wilbur, visitors at the home of Sheriff Mutchler, prevented a jail delivery. James Martin, 17, attacked and felled Deputy Sheriff Parks with the leg of a table but the two women slammed the door leading to freedom and prevented the escape of Martin and two other prisoners.

BABY ESCAPES.

Bellefontaine, O. July 17.—Only a four year old child escaped death when a buggy containing three passengers was hit by a Big Four train at Ridgeway. Mrs. James Paris, mother of the child and Mrs. John McGinnis were instantly killed.

TOUGH STEAKS IN STORE.

Pittsburgh, July 18.—Tough steaks are in store for some unfortunate buyers here. One of a herd of cows being driven through the streets to a slaughter house fell twenty-two feet into an excavation without even breaking its skin.

WILL MEET AGAIN.

London, July 17.—Pat Moore, American bantamweight and Jimmy Wilde, the flyweight champion of the world and batamweight champion of England, will meet here tonight in a 20-round bout at the Olympia. It will be the second meeting between the little boxers. Moore having won a four round decision over Wilde during inter-allied boxing tournament here last December.

TAX PAYERS TAKE NOTICE. Saturday, July 19, is the last day to pay taxes without penalty. J. E. SUTTON.

WICHITA LONG ON BANKS

WICHITA, Kan. July 18.—Wichita has more banks than Kansas City, according to Will J. McCarter, cashier of the Continental National Bank of Kansas City, while on a visit here. The "Gate City," of the Southwest has but nineteen banks; the Continental being the nineteenth according to Mr. McCarter. Wichita, however, has twenty-nine banks and trust companies.

MAY FLY U. S. FLAG.

Berlin, July 16.—A report was current in financial circles today that American financiers propose the reorganization of the Hamburg American and North German Lloyd steamship lines and that the vessels will fly the United States flag when put into commission. The idea is favored by the German stockholders.

LA-MAY FACE POWDER DOES NOT CONTAIN ANY WHITE LEAD

Now you can use a pure face powder that is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate baby skin. It will not cause enlarged pores, blackheads and irritations. And, it really stays on better than any other face powder. It does not contain white lead or starchy rice powder (Powder de Riz) to make it stick. White lead poisons the skin and rice powder turns into a gluey paste that encourages enlarged pores, blackheads and rice powder pimples. The specialist who makes this improved powder uses a medicinal ingredient that doctors use to heal the skin. In fact, this new powder helps to prevent and reduce enlarged pores and pimples. It is also astringent, discouraging flabbiness, crows' feet and wrinkles. Because it is pure and because it stays on so well this La-may powder (French, Poudre L'ame) is now used by over a million American women. The large size is only fifty cents and the trial size is twenty-five cents. Remember La-may is guaranteed absolutely pure. Five thousand dollars reward is offered any chemist who finds it contains any white lead or rice powder. Refuse substitutes. Your common sense will tell you that when you are offered a substitute it is sure to be a demonstrator trying to sell an inferior powder that pays a big commission. When you use this absolutely pure La-may and see how splendidly it beautifies your complexion, you will understand why it so quickly became the most popular beauty powder sold in New York. Save this notice. La-may is pure. Ronge is also pure.

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Sayre & Hemphill dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT — What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

Notice of Sale of Bonds

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Clerk of the Village of Jamestown, State of Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon on the 4th day of August, 1919, for the purchase of bonds for the said Village in the aggregate sum of Twenty-eight Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($2,850), dated August 1st, 1919.

Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be in the denominations and mature as follows:

No. Denomination Maturity
1.$500.00 August 1st, 1920
2.$500.00 August 1st, 1921
3.$500.00 August 1st, 1922
4.$500.00 August 1st, 1923
5.$350.00 August 1st, 1924

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of creating a fund for the payment of a Combination Auto Fire Truck, and under authority of the laws of Ohio, and of Section 3939 General Code, and in accordance with a certain ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance to Issue Bonds," passed on the 19th day of May 1919.

JAMESTOWN TO HAVE BIG FAIR

The big annual Jamestown Fair, introducing a good speed program and a great midway featured by Laggs Great Empire Shows, appears to be bigger and better than ever this year.
The Fair will be held six days and nights beginning Monday, July 28, and lasting until August 2. At night there will be no admission charged at the gate and entrance will be free.

TONY ANGELLA IS TOUCHED FOR ROLL

Tony Angella, giving his address as Xenia, reported the theft of $200 to Springfield police Tuesday night.

Angella was walking along East North street near the O. S. Kelly shop about 10:30 Tuesday night when he met a strange woman.

Thirty minutes later he reported to police that ten brand new $20 bills he had drawn Tuesday from a Xenia bank, were missing from his pocket.

Police are searching for the woman Angella's name could not be found in the City Directory here.

LIGHTNING BURNS HOLE THROUGH HAY

Lightning played strange freaks on the barn at the home of Ervin Huffman on the Jasper pike.

Striking the structure during the severe rain storm of Tuesday afternoon, the lightning tore a small strip of weather boarding from the side of the barn, and then burned its way clear through the hay in the mow.

The lightning left a hole burned out big enough for it to pass through, but beyond that did not burn or set fire to the hay.

The small loss is covered by insurance.

MOTOR AIDS

Long cuts in tires are usually caused by the sudden application of the brake, due to the car traveling faster than the tire proportionally revolves, and when a sharp obstacle of any description comes in contact with the tire surface, it naturally cuts the rubber in place of the tire rolling over it.

Thin spots on the tread of a tire are also usually caused by applying the brake. When a rear tire wears continually in one spot, the cause may be invariably traced to the brake drum having locked in the same place each time the brake is applied.

Apply the brake cautiously and these troubles will be avoided. Or course, there are times when conditions warrant the sudden stop, but nine times out of ten the brake can be applied gently. In fact frequent tests have shown that a car can be stopped more safely for its passengers and in a shorter distance, by a gentle application of the brakes, and the wear will be greatly reduced.

Animals in Captivity.

Captivity causes many wild animals to live shorter lives than they would if left in their natural habitat. This is peculiarly true of foxes and monkeys. Gorillas and apes die so soon after being captured that they are rarely seen in zoological gardens. Turties, elephants and snakes seem to suffer not at all from captivity.

GREENE COUNTY FAIR TO BE GREATER AND MORE GLORIOUS THAN EVER

Heralding a promise of "bigger and better" the eightieth annual "great and glorious" Greene County Fair is announcing its dates of August 5, 6, 7 and 8.

With all of the usual features scheduled for on an even greater plane, and a number of new, startling and interesting free acts to add to the attractions of the annual event, the fair this year will have little difficulty in not only living up to but exceeding its previous reputation.

The speed department, in charge of
C. M. Austin, is presenting a racing program of much interest to horsemen and lovers of the racing sport.
As usual, there will be no speed events on the opening day, but Wednesday will open up with three events—a 2:20 pace, a 2:24 trot and a 2:11 pace being scheduled. On Thursday there will be a 2:20 trot, a 2:20 pace and a 2:16 trot, and on Friday, the final day, a 2:25 pace, a 2:30 trot and a 2:15 pace. Purses of $300 have been provided for each event.

There are five classes listed in the horse judging department, including saddle ponies and horses, draft horses, roadster horses, sweepstakes horses and fancy mare or gelding.

In the cattle department premiums will be given for Shorthorns and Polled Durhams, Herefords, Polled
Angus and Galloways, Holsteins, Jerseys, Polled Jerseys, Sweepstakes cattle, Breeders young herds.

In the sheep department, the following classes will be judged: Oxforddowns, Southdowns, Hampshire-downs, Shropshire-downs, Long Wool, American Merinos, Delaine
Merinos, Lincolns, Cheviots, Ram-bouillet, Dorsets, Sweepstakes sheep, Downs (all breeds), Long Wools (all breeds), Fine Wools (all breeds).

In the swine departments the following classes are entered:
Berkshire, Poland China, Chester
White, Duroc Jersey, Hampshires,
Sweepstakes on Swine, Berkshires and Hampshires, Poland China, Chester White and Duroc Jersey.

Poultry will be featured as usual, including besides chickens, peafowls, guineas, pigeons, toys and Belgian Hares.

The needle and miscellaneous work department will be particularly large and interesting, including French and cylinder embroidery, cotton embroidery, (white) colored embroidery, cross stitch, Infant department, dresser sets, tatting, crochet work, crochet braids, hand sewing, machine sewing, hand sewing, sofa pillows, miscellaneous embroidery, fancy articles, etc.

In the painting and drawing departments the classes are water color, pastel, black and white, oil painting, photographs and pictures, and china painting.

Other departments are the children's department, domestic manufactures, cut flowers by amateurs, cut flowers by professionals, breads, cakes, sweetmeats, home-made confections, young ladies' baking exhibit, preserves, canned fruit and jellies, dairy and other products, pickles and catsup, farm and garden products and fruits, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, onions, beans, miscellaneous, wheat, other grains, oats, clover seed, corn, sweet corns, fruit, summer and fall apples, winter apples, pears, peaches, quinces, grapes, plums and finally the education department, with County Superintendent of Schools F. M. Reynolds in charge, which, it is thought this year will make the school exhibit more interesting than ever.

"The Intercountry Quoit Tournament which started last year at the instigation of the Xenia Quoit Club, will also be a feature of the Fair this year. Games will be played on the especially prepared grounds at the Fair Grounds under the rules of the Xenia Quoit club. Twenty-five dollars will be divided between the winning teams. M. J. Bebb, captain of the Xenia Quoit Club is receiving entries for which any team in this or adjoining counties is eligible.

Four free features are being advertised by the committee this year, including the Dellamead Troupe, the Earle Sisters, Joe Kiljoy, acrobat and the Ferris Wheel Girls. These amusements are always popular and supplement the Midway which as usual will be lined with its assortment of shows and amusements. Free acts will take place in front of the grandstand between heats for the amusement of the racing fans.

With the big Fair only three weeks off, interest is increasing and since the war is over and people do not have such serious matters to occupy their minds, it is estimated that the largest crowds ever recorded here will visit the grounds on the big days.

COME LET US REASON TOGETHER.

We commend to some gentlemen of the American Senate the 11th verse of the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians: "When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child, but when I became a man I put away childish things." For the reason that some of the Senators have not put away childish things. Even though they have before them the most momentous question of the age, they dabble away their time, the precious time for which the nation pays them, in flippant rhetoric on suppositions and objections to the League of Nations.

An argument, to have convincing force, must have a base of strength, and this is just what much of this Senatorial bombast against the League lacks. It is based on prejudice, which, considering the vital import of the subject, is beneath the manliness of the men. He who, when considering a momentous question, lets prejudice sway him, is possessed with a devil, that often shuts out the truth and leads to irretrievable error.

The question is being asked whether if there had been a league of nations America could have come to the assistance of Cuba in 1898 and whether France could have come to the assistance of our colonies in the Revolution.

Had we had a league before the war with Spain undoubtedly the council or the assembly of the league would have used such pressure in behalf of Cuba as would have compelled attention and reform. Spain would surely never have been chosen as she has been now to be one of the four minor nations to be added to the big five in the council, if the reconcentrado camps in Cuba had been crying to heaven for redress.

The moral and economic force of a repressing league is going to be a mighty factor in the future, even if an organized boycott is not decreed. It will now become the duty of each nation to become its brother's keeper and to look out for every oppressed part on earth.

As to France coming to our help in the Revolution, the analogy is not competent, for the reason that France was a monarchy, and no nations which are not free are to be admitted to the League of Nations. Great Britain is today essentially republican, so is Italy; and even in Japan the ministry is responsible to the Parliament. All the other signatories are literally or essentially republican.

The question as to what a league established by free governments in 1919 would have done in 1779, when there were no free governments in the world, is as senseless as similar comparisons regarding transportation in the time of the Lusitania in terms of conditions that obtained in the time of the Mayflower.

If these recalcitrant Senators would put their ears to the ground they could hear a mighty rumble of approval for the speedy ratification of the Paris made Treaty of Peace, which would put a stop to their flippant objections. They do not seem to sense their awful folly. And if any of them have in their bonnets the Presidential bee of 1920 we can assure them that no man who votes against this treaty will ever be President of the United States.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

"How should I act when a guest of mine makes a bad blunder," asked Helen.

"It is a rule of hospitality that demands loyalty on the part of the hostess to any guest. She may regret having extended hospitality to this guest, but so long as the relation of guest and hostess exist the greatest loyalty and courtesy must be preserved. So when one of your guests makes a great blunder, swallow your amusement and your pride and make the best of it," answered her older friend.

PACKERS WILL PAY 25 TO 50 PER CENT OF COST FOR CANNED GOODS.

Rejection by the War Department of packers' bids on 143,000,000 pounds of army meat opens the way for the sale of the meat to the general public at cost, if municipalities and civic organizations can be induced to finance the distribution.

In rejecting the bids, which ranged from 25 to 50 per cent of the cost of the meat to the government, Secretary Baker announced that the department had decided to sell assorted lots of government meats and other canned goods to any organizations desiring to buy. The department, he said, had accepted an offer of the Mayor of Baltimore of $2,500 for a miscellaneous supply of canned meats and vegetables at actual cost to be retailed throughout Baltimore at cost.

The secretary said the department stood ready to make sales of its surplus meats and vegetables to any other municipality on a similar basis. The army has a surplus stock of canned vegetables amounting to 5,500,000 cases.

The meats and canned vegetables, which now will be sold in smaller quantities than the carload lots first required, will be disposed of in the thirteen army supply zones.

"A majority of the bids received were from packing concerns, many of them bidding exclusively for their own products. Highest prices offered for 'Serial 8 bacon' (in crates) were approximately 50 per cent of its cost to the government. 'Serial 10 bacon' (packed in 12-pound cans) received bids of approximately only 45 per cent of cost, corned beef hash at 25 per cent of cost and roast beef at 35 per cent of cost price, although one packing company bid 50 per cent of cost for 15,000 cans of roast beef of its own pack."

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

SANDRA GOES OVER THE HOUSE CHAPTER XV

I was terribly uncomfortable all thru dinner, Hetty served us and every little while she would cast a sympathizing glance in my direction. It comforted me, but I knew it would anger Everett if he caught her, so I tried to avoid looking at her as much as possible.

"Now go and take down that ridiculous tower effect," Everett said, as we rose from the table. "You have altogether too much hair to do it that way."

"I'll finish my unpacking, if you will excuse me," I returned. He had told me to take my hair down before the housekeeper. "One would think me a child instead of a married woman to hear him talk," I thought as I climbed the stairs to my room. But as soon as I opened the door I forgot my annoyance, everything but the exquisite room which was to be mine. "Wont Rose Grandon stare when she sees this!" I said aloud. "I will ask her to come during vacation. That settled to my satisfaction. I proceeded to unpack. It was a perfect delight to lay my clothes away in the padded bureau-drawers scented with lavender, and to hang my wraps and gowns in the big closets. I lingered over it so long that Everett called to know if I were coming down again.

"If you want me."

"I'd like some music if you are not too tired."

"No, indeed," I called back. "I'll be right down."

I had quite a talent for music, the only one I possessed. Mother was a good musician and I had been well taught. I played an hour for him. Then he sent me to bed.

"Aren't you coming too?"

"Not for awhile."

As I mounted the stairs, he spoke to the housekeeper. I heard the word "library" and then something about him doing as he always had done.

What had he done that he talked over with the housekeeper? I couldn't ask her, neither could I question Everett. But I could wait and see. Perhaps Hetty would know. I could ask her anything I wanted to. She would tell me I felt sure.

I was tired with the journey and the excitement, so went directly to bed—my last waking thought that Rose would be crazy over my lovely home.

The entire house was richly furnished. But of all the rooms, my own room in the soft gray and rose, suited me best. It didn't look as if it had been used very much, while the rest of the house showed some wear.

At breakfast the next morning, Everett said:

"Mrs. Gray will show you over the house today. You will want to know where things are kept."

Mrs. Gray didn't look a bit pleased; but said nothing.

After Everett had left the office she came to my door and I knew by the jangling of a bunch of keys that she had come for me. And I knew by the expression on her face, that she did not relish her job—albeit I couldn't understand why she felt unkindly towards me.

I jumped up immediately.

"Perhaps we better commence with the linen, Mrs. Graham," she said coldly, preceding me down the stairs.

"Just as you say," I returned carelessly. I really thought it was going to be an awful bore to spend my morning going thru closets, and neither could I see the necessity for it when we had a housekeeper. But it was Everett's wish—rather, his command—so I must do as he had told me.

I answered her politely when she showed me the piles of neatly stacked sheets and pillow cases, or the table linen and towels. I was more impatient when she insisted upon opening drawers and closets. By the time we were half thru I was bored to death, and yawning. I wanted to go back to my own room and write to Rose and to Mother.

"You don't seem interested," Mrs. Gray finally said.

"Forgive me, but really I am not! I don't see why you should be bothered to show me all these things. I am going to live here. There will be time enough to see them, I guess."

"Then you don't intend to take charge?"

"Me! in this big house? Why I couldn't save my life. Aren't you going to stay? Oh, please do!" My first dislike was forgotten in the fear that I was to be left to manage the house. "Mother never let me do but the simplest things to help. She said I was too young."

NEWLY WEDS ARE NOT WANTED AT HARVARD

Cambridge, Mass., July 18.—Honeymooners, if they expect to spend their cooling hours in Harvard halls, in addition to pursuing their studies in the Summer schools are doomed to disappointment this year. The school for several Summers has been a mecca for newlyweds, as the Summer school authorities offered all the comforts of home to those who wished to take the six weeks' instruction at Cambridge.

But this year no special arrangement has been made in Gore or Standish halls for married folks. The custom of the past few years in reserving a wing for them in one of these halls has been given up. The women of the school will be quartered in Gore hall and eat there, while the men will room in Standish hall and take their meals at Smith hall. The authorities have provided a chaparron at Gore.

CLYDE R. INGLES GAINS 22 POUNDS AND BETTER HEALTH

Refractories Company's Stationary Engineer Gives Nerv-Worth All the Credit.

In source and quality this signed statement is one of the most convincing on record:

"For twelve years I have had stomach trouble. My digestion was poor and had bloating of the stomach and belching and gas. I was so nervous I would often at night jump out of bed to get relief. My nerves were so affected I could scarcely write a letter. I saw Nerv-Worth advertised in the Portsmouth Times and I decided to try it. I have been taking Nerv-Worth for two months and must say my stomach is getting in fine shape, so that what I eat agrees with me. My nerves are getting better and I have gained twenty-two pounds. I have doctored and tried many patent medicines and I can say Nerv-Worth has done more for me than anything I have ever tried."

BLOOD IS YOUR LIFE; YOU MUST KEEP IT PURE

All Impurities Must Be Eliminated.

When the blood becomes foul from the presence of poisonous substances, which the body is unable to throw off it can no longer supply the nerves, brain and muscles with nourishment and strength. The result is that you are miserable, half sick and feel tired all the time.

If you will cleanse the blood of all impurities, you will find that your work will be a pleasure you will eat and sleep well and enjoy good health.

One of the best blood cleansers or purifiers known today is the prescription of a successful physician. He used it for years in his practice for the treatment of disorders of the blood.

You can still get this same splendid prescription, ready prepared, from your druggist. Just call for Prescription C-2223, or the C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn., will mail you a $1.50 bottle on receipt of price.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, opium, morphine, chloral or strychnine. While sold in concentrated form, and is to be taken in small doses, its use will not harm the most delicate stomach. Write for literature—C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn.

CRIPPLED GIRL DROWNS IN BIG TANK OF WATER

Miss Florence Matthews, 23 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Matthews, was drowned in a galvanized tank of water in the yard at the home of her parents five miles from Xenia, off the Cincinnati pike, about 5:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Matthews was crippled and was subject to attacks of epilepsy. While suffering from one of these spells, she fell face downward into the tank of water, and although rescued within a few minutes, efforts at resuscitation were in vain. Her niece, Miss Hazel Matthews, who was in the barnyard, some distance from the house, saw her fall, and hurried to the house to give the alarm, but before she reached the dwelling, Mrs. Matthews had reached her daughter's side, and lifted her from the water. Drs. A. C. and H. S. Messenger were called and arrived at the house as soon as possible.

Threshing had been in progress all day at the Matthews farm, and supper was being prepared for the workmen. Miss Matthews who because of her physical condition was unable to perform many household tasks, entered the kitchen and asked her mother if there was not something she could do to help in the preparations for the meal. Her mother assigned her to some simple task which took her into the yard and she was gone only a few minutes when the tragedy occurred.

The dead girl is survived by her father and stepmother, a brother Raymond, a half sister, Miss Mary and two half brothers, Howard and Ralph. Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:30 Friday.

SUN'S RAYS SET JUMPERS ON FIRE

Kansas City, Mo., July 18.—Frank Robinson, a farmer of Oak Grove, Jackson County, while driving his binder in a wheat field, smelled smoke. He got down and examined the machine, but could find nothing wrong, and was about to drive on when he felt a painful sensation in his right arm. His clothing was afire.

Investigation showed that the oil which had soaked into his clothing had been set afire by the hot rays of the sun. No serious damage was done except to spoil a pair of jumpers.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenbuh Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.
Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & Hemphill has been appointed agent for Allenbuh in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

RELIEVED RHEUMATICS ENTHUSE

ALL LOUD IN THEIR PRAISE OF "NEUTRONE PRESCRIPTION 99"

A working man buying a bottle of "Neutrone Prescription 99" was asked how it was helping him.

"Helping me," he replied. "Why, there is nothing on earth like it. You don't know how my poor swollen, stiff joints and muscles pained and burned. I was nearly crazy with suffering and the I was losing so much time and pay, worry of losing so much time and pay, worry of losing so much time and pay."

"Before I knew about 'Neutrone Prescription 99' I tried all kinds of tablets and liniments, but one bottle of 'Neutrone Prescription 99' helped me so much that I am never without it now. All pain and swelling is gone and I feel like 'doing things'."

"Neutrone Prescription 99" certainly must be a wonder," the druggist replied. "We have never handled anything like it. They all say the same," 50c and $1.00 the bottle.

Runes.
"Runes" were the letters of the alphabet used by the old Teutonic tribes. The word means hidden lore. The earliest runes were merely fanciful signs supposed to possess mysterious power. The letters were even considered magical, and were cast into the air, written separately upon chips, to fall as fate determined, on a cloth and to be read by the interpreters. The association of the runes with heathen superstitions caused the first Christian teachers to discourage their use.

IRVIN HARNER HURT WHEN MOTORCYCLE RUNS INTO AUTO

When the motorcycle on which he was riding collided with a Studebaker automobile on Washington street, in Dayton Monday afternoon, Irvin Harner, of the dry cleaning firm of Kester & Harner, received a badly injured right foot, in which the ligaments were torn.

Mr. Harner was riding with a Mr. Harris, of Spring Valley, when the accident happened. He was removed at once to the office of a nearby doctor where an X-ray picture was taken to determine the nature of the injury. He was brought home by the driver of the Studebaker in his machine.

NOTICE

The article as published in Wednesday's Gazette has quite a misleading influence in regard to the action of the Social Service League toward the merging of the Social Service League with the Red Cross Unit of this place.

Quite a number of the members of the Social Service League were present at the League's meeting Monday evening, and unanimously expressed themselves as not being in favor of any merger at present, until further investigation of said matter is made, and was deferred until next regular meeting.

Dr. McClellan gave a very interesting talk regarding the Red Cross work, and the Social Service League's work.

and personally expressed his opinion as disapproving any such merger. Signed,
Mrs. Carrie R. Faulkner,
Asst. Sec., Social Service League.

DRINKS OUNCE OF TINCTURE OF IODINE

As a result of taking tincture of iodine Thursday morning, Mrs. I. Friedman is seriously ill at her home on North King street. Her recovery is expected however, should inflammation of the stomach and esophagus not result.

Mrs. Friedman was alone with her two little children at 7 o'clock when she swallowed the poison. Her 10 year old daughter, Nanette, called a physician, who administered an emetic which probably saved her life. Mrs. Friedman said that she took an ounce of the poison.

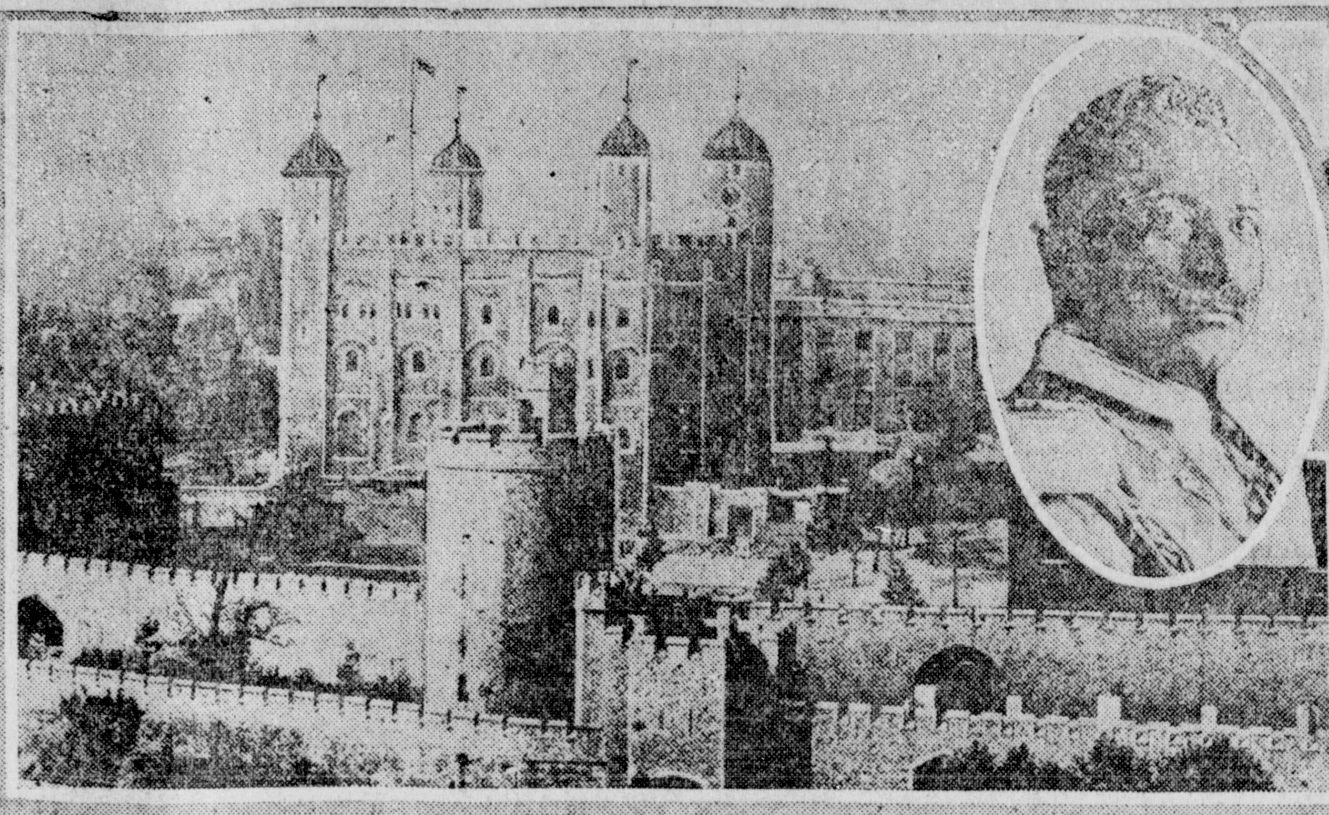

"Safety First."

Two recent cases of fainting in the bath recall the advice that the late Sir William Hingston, M. D., of Montreal was wont to give his patients. "Fill the bath," he used to say, "pull out the plug and then get in. If you faint in the bath the water will run out before you drown."

Juvenile Rebuke.

Little five-year-old Mary, who had great kindness of heart for all the animal creation, saw a hen preparing to gather her chickens under her wings, and shouted earnestly: "Oh, don't sit down on those beautiful little birds, you great big, ugly, old rooster!"

HISTORIC TOWER OF LONDON WHICH MAY BE FUTURE "HOME OF KAISER."

Historic Tower of London may be Kaiser's prison.

A general view of the historic tower of London, showing the many buildings which make up England's famous old prison and fortress. The probably be the future "home" of the ex-Kaiser of Germany. The "White Tower," the erection of which was started by William of old, and finished twenty years later by his son, William Rufus, was recently opened to the public. The secret dungeons of the tower, places of great historic interest, hold gloomy secrets and tales of horror. In this tower is the cell where Sir Walter Raleigh spent ten years. He was released to go on a South American expedition for the king, and being unsuccessful, returned only to be beheaded.

CHAUTAUQUA IS MOST AMERICAN OF ALL AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS

Chautauqua, N. Y., July 17.—This "most American of all American institutions," as President Roosevelt called it, is certainly this year living up to its traditions. It is increasingly popular, it would seem; for President Bestor announced yesterday that the attendance had already broken the record for any previous second week of July.

It is keeping up its American traditions, too, Americanism is in the air, and Chautauqua is nothing if not genuinely progressive and up to the forward-looking minute. The national keynote is struck in almost every program. One flourishing organization, the Americanization Conference, devotes its whole energy to the propagation of national spirit; and Prof. Thomas F. Moran of Purdue University, gave yesterday to its members a most stimulating address on "American Ideals Worth Perpetuating." Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the Chautauqua Woman's Club, and ex-president of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs, in a strong and dramatic speech, Wednesday, presented a plea for the erection of community houses which should perpetuate the ideals for which men fought in the war and should serve as meeting places for American and foreign-born around one common hearthstone. Even in musical programs the patriotic note is sounded. An "All American Program" was presented in the amphitheater, on Wednesday, also, by Mr. James Robert Gillette, which revealed to some of us an unsuspected mastery of technique and tone in our young American composers.

But the Chautauqua platform is clearing-houses for ideas on all sorts of subjects. If every member of the Woman's Club returns to her friends without a marked increase in her personal charm, it will certainly not be the fault of Miss Bragg, or the school of expression, who told them, Tuesday afternoon, in a personally charming way, just "How to be Interesting." Professor Edwin Mims, Vanderbilt University, is giving a remarkably effective series of lectures on "Right Thinking," and Miss Anna Barrows spoke yesterday in the amphitheater on the "Education of the Elder." Miss Ada Van Stone Harris stresses the disastrous combination in the educational world of the low cost of teaching with the high cost of living.

Attorney General Palmer will speak July 26, on some subject connected with his branch of the administration and Mr. Earl Barnes, of Philadelphia, one of the most popular of all the Chautauqua lecturers, will give in the first weeks of August a group of addresses on the New Nations of Europe. Indeed, with apologies to Lewis Carroll, Chautauqua's so full of a number of things, I am sure we should all be as happy as kings.

The drama this week had as its exponent, Professor S. F. Clark, Chicago University, who presented Israel Zangwill's The Melting Pot from the stage of the amphitheatre. Attention was called to the Arts and Crafts department of the schools by Mr. Royal W. Farnum, New York, who said jocularly, "Here in Chautauqua, of all places in this country, is to be found a collection of all the arts that go to make a nation. Only two things have we not done here, architecture and pottery."

Ohio is well represented here in this Summer School of the Lake. She ranks third in the number of members of the Woman's Club and contributes ten members to the Summer Schools Faculty. There are hundreds of Ohioans registered at the Bureau of Information and among them a half dozen from Xenia: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Little, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Armstrong and Miss Dorothy Armstrong.

Meantime Chautauqua's skies are blue, the chestnut and the lindens are in bloom, and the hounds of summer follow traces of the spring. E. B. C.

Blood Poisoning Results From Slight Scratch

"Special Dispatch to The Enquirer." "Wheeling, W. Va., June 15.—Dr. College, died at a local hospital early today. Death due to blood poisoning, which was caused by a slight scratch which he received on his hand 10 days ago."

The above is an actual quotation from the Cincinnati Enquirer, with names omitted.

Give every injury, no matter how slight, immediate attention. Safety suggests that you keep a bottle of House-tone-e-ah always at hand for emergency use. Its highly concentrated antiseptic qualities make only a slight application necessary to thoroughly disinfect any scratch or cut. No danger of infection when House-tone-e-ah (The Original Jones) Liniment is used and yet its action is so mild that it may be freely applied to severe wounds, burns and scalds. Its soothing and healing power is almost magical. Don't risk being without it. Get a bottle from your druggist today. A 4-oz. bottle 25c. Large household size, enough to last a year, 50c. Fifty years' use proves it to be the most reliable household antiseptic. "The kind your daddy used, with my dad's picture on the yellow wrapper." The Dr. J. C. Jones Co., S. Charleston, Ohio.

THEATERS

BIJOU.

Miss Marguerite Clark has an exceedingly well adapted and clever photoplay in her latest Paramount production "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" a picturization of that popular novel by Alice Hegan Rice.

All who love optimism and are admirers of an ideal home life, should see this wonderful production to the screen dramatization of which Miss Clark adds considerable charm. The cast includes Mary Carr, Vivian Ogden, Gladys Valerie, Gareth Hughes, Jack McLean, Robert Milash, Maud Hordford, Mary Davis, Anita Brown, Lawrence Johnson, Marion Stewart, Lola Hernandez, May McAvoy and Wanda Valle.

ORPHIUM.

Taylor Holmes, who was a raving success in his latest Triangle production staged here, has a new Triangle vehicle in "It's a Bear," which will show at the Orphium Theater Friday.

This picture is replete with quick action, humorous situations that furnish Mr. Holmes every opportunity for the display of his unquestionably light-hearted talents. The picture makes you laugh and at the same time results in you a buoyant spirit of determination.

Disillusioned

A novelist who had learned that a certain book seller was a great admirer of his works resolved to call upon the tradesman and introduce himself. Having done so, he noticed that the manager scrutinized him rather critically, but freely entered into conversation. When the novelist was about to depart he said: "Now you have met me, I suppose you will want to tell my books more than ever?" "Perhaps I shall," was the answer, "but, all the same, I wish I had not seen you."

Her Occupation.

Louise's mother was a busy club woman and was always serving on some committee. When Louise came home from her first day at kindergarten her mother said: "Well, dear, what did you do today?" "O," said Louise, with a patronizing air, "I was appointed on a committee to string beads."

NERVOUSNESS ON THE DECLINE

Doctors Encouraged, They Hold Out Hope For All

"Nothing wrong with my nerves." We hear it at home, at work and everywhere. A man or woman might better have a broken leg than a shattered run down nervous system. Overwork and worry drains the nerve cells and centers of all their strength and vitality, then you get your sleepless nights, poor blood, nervousness, worry and fear. The better doctors of today know just what to do in cases of this kind. A few weeks' use of Phosphated Iron rarely fails to strengthen and feed the Phosphated hungry nerve centers.

Phosphated Iron certainly does take hold. The way the majority of patients come back is remarkable. What a change in appearance, too. The cheeks become filled out and flushed with the healthy ruddy glow that only pure red ironized blood can give. Eyes sparkle, their step has the spring and swing of youth and their whole system seems to be alive with energy and good spirits.

Mr. Nervous Man or Woman, Phosphated Iron will do all this for you if you will give it a chance. Do not drag around, all in and half dead another day when help is so near. Get busy! and be a live one once again!

To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets, insist on the capsules. A few weeks' use of Phosphated Iron rarely fails to strengthen and feed the Phosphated hungry nerve centers.

Finding Out

By MELVILLE TRAFTON

Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.

"It's young Ned who is troubling my mind," spoke Abner Mills, with something of an anxious sigh.

"Oh, 'tis?" rejoined Moses Parr, crony and familiar of half a century's standing. "What's he up to, Abner?"

"He's in love," enlightened the other. "You know what marriage means—misery, if there's a misnaming."

"Why should there be that?" propounded Moses. "You and I have each a son and our lives have just about centered about them since we became lonely old widowers. Well, when my lad got moonstruck two years ago I just let him have his swing. But I watched and looked up the girl—oh, you bet I did! I hired an investigator and he made me a report. All through one month. There wasn't much that I didn't know about Miss Blake and her forbears. Bless her dear heart! It was almost cruel to think of looking her up, as if she was some common criminal, but I wanted to be sure everything was all right."

"H'm! you give me an idea," muttered old Abner, "only I'll be my own detective. Here's the facts: Ned was away for two months with a chum who lives down country. While there it seems he met a Miss Eva Dodson vacationing with an old aunt. From what I gather the girl is poor, modest, respectable. Ned hasn't said a word about it, but I ran across a letter he had written and it revealed the whole layout. I see what's coming—engagement, marriage. I shan't try to hinder it, if they are likely to be happy, but I'm bound to be dead certain about just that."

So, unconscious of the fact that the cherished secret of his soul had been discovered, Ned Mills went on loving Eva Dodson and writing to her. She was surely his ideal! She wore no engagement ring, for she had insisted that Ned inform his family of his decision and try the test of a two months' separation. But Ned had procrastinated the making of a confidant of his father, for he knew his ways, and that his approval of the prospective match might be a slow-moving operation.

"I am going to spend a few days on business in the city, Ned," spoke his father one day. "You look after things around the store till I come back, will you?"

"Sure enough and glad enough," acquiesced Ned in his usual hearty, accommodating way, and Mr. Mills departed, proceeded, indeed, to the city, but began a mysterious series of actions which, had the same been followed by a stranger, would have puzzled and startled him. Always precise and careful as to his attire, Mr. Mills spent an hour in the shop of a second-hand clothing man. When he emerged there was little left of the prosperous, well-dressed merchant. A faultless suit had been exchanged for one coarse of fabric, shabby and threadbare.

It was to Ferndale that Mr. Mills proceeded, and that was the place he had learned Miss Dodson was living temporarily. When he located the home of her aunt, old Abner approached it in a labored, limping way that at once excited the sympathy of the loveliest young lady that he had ever met. She came to the kitchen door attired in a neat enveloping apron, befringed to the elbows, as dainty and fresh looking as the pies and cookies she had just made.

The sad tale of the aged arch-schemer, posing as an indigent wanderer, won him a meal, then work, which he did manfully. All he was after was to have an opportunity to study a possible prospective daughter-in-law. Fortune favored him. He was given a room over the kitchen, he was engaged to do odd jobs about the place. He found Eva the idol of all the little ones in the neighborhood, and dutiful to her aged aunt, in fact a model girl in every way. He wrote in his memorandum book the sentiment one day: "Eva Dodson is poor and humble, but she is well worthy my son, and I shall tell Ned so!"

That memorandum book the old man lost one day, and it was returned to him by Eva. Then upon another day he was confronted by a startler. He was just outside the kitchen when the aunt entered bearing a small metal box.

"Eva," she spoke, "how careless you are, leaving all this money and bonds on your bureau. Is it the $10,000 the lawyer brought you?"

"Yes, aunty," responded Eva, "I suppose I had better send them to the bank for safe keeping," and Abner Mills pricked up his ears mightily at this extraordinary revelation. The following morning he announced to his kind-hearted hostess that he must be on his way. Eva accompanied him to the gate.

"Good-by, Mr. Mills," she spoke, a gleam of mingled merriment and mischief in her eyes.

"Eh, how's that?" exclaimed the astonished Abner. "You knew all along?"

"No, Mr. Mills, not until the day you lost your memorandum book, and I ask forgiveness for my stray glance at it, and will you please tell Ned that his humble country girl has become a real helper?"

"You have turned the tables on me pretty cleverly," admitted Abner Mills, "and if you are willing to take an old tramp for a father-in-law, I am most agreeable to the relationship."

GOVERNOR LOWDEN'S BOOM FOR PRESIDENCY REACHES CAPITAL.

Governor F. O. Lowden

The boom of Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, for the Republican nomination for President has been launched in Washington by Congressman Frank L. Smith, who is also the chairman of the Illinois State Central Republican Committee, according to a report from Washington. Congressman Smith, in his statement, says Governor Lowden is offered to the party as a candidate not as a mere "favorite son," but as a man big enough for the job.

Aboriginal Superstition.

The Australian blacks weave the bushy tails of their "dingo" dogs into their beards to make them longer. Indians of the Puget Sound region make blankets of dogs' hair. Natives of Borneo believe that black dogs are the chosen familiars of sorcerers, and he who laughs when a dog crosses the path will be turned to stone.

YANKEE HERO FLIER IS MISTAKEN FOR RAILWAY GUARD

Boston, July 18.—Lieutenant-Commander Albert C. Read, U. S. N., commander of the NC-4 the first flying machine to cross the Atlantic Ocean, declared as he got aboard a train on his way to visit his old home at South Hanson that he was "a youth to fortune and to fame unknown."

Hurrying into the great train shed with a traveling bag in one hand and with Mrs. Read at his side, the intrepid airman was stopped by an excited woman. "Say, boy, when does the next train for Hingham leave?" she demanded.

Embarrassed, Read explained that he was not a railroad station guard and that his uniform was that of the Naval Air Service.

Muscle and Appetite.

Many great musical composers had exceptionally large appetites. When Handel dined alone at a restaurant he ordered a meal for three. Haydn, yet more voracious, delighted in dining alone, and was known to consume a meal that would have satisfied five ordinary appetites.

CEDARVILLE BOY SITS OUTSIDE CASTLE GATES WATCHING FOR KAISER

"Ted" Richards of Cedarville, who is affectionately known as "Chief" to everyone in Cedarville and whose happy disposition has gained friends for him throughout the county, especially in baseball circles, is in receipt of the following very interesting letter from Fred F. Marshall, of Cedarville, who is now with the American army of occupation. Mr. Marshall was engaged throughout the war in special work as a photographer and was one of the official photographers at the peace conference. He is now at The Hague in the Netherlands and has the distinction of being stationed in the same hotel in which the Queen of the Netherlands makes her home. The letter follows:

June 10th, 1919.
My dear friend "Chief":
I am just in happy receipt of your lengthy and interesting letter dated May 15th. Such letters as you send with their "inside dope" and intimacies on our conservative little community are the kind that help to bridge the tide for we unfortunates who are destined to remain on this side to see the game through, although it is the last half of the ninth and the score stands ten to nothing in the home team's favor.

An ideal June evening is just gathering its fragments of twilight beneath the leafy canopy that is interlaced above the beautiful Lange Voorhout leading up to the plain, yet quaint old palace of the queen mother; the robins and the canaries fill the air with a delirium of song that mingle with the strains of a vagabond violinist, who has stopped at the terrace of the Cafe Royal to serenade the patrons and pick up a few pennies. A cool, soft breeze is floating in through the open window, faintly rustling the curtains and bringing a breath of the ocean. Fluffy, rolling clouds are floating in from the sea with a hint of ensuing thunder showers. Against them, high above the earth, I can see the tiny specks of hundreds of storks returning from their day of forage to the roosting places about the town. Tall church spires lift sharply against the crimson sky and ever and anon sweet toned bells and mellow chimes burst forth upon the quiet air.

In the distance I can see the magnificent spire of the Peace Palace. A street boy is just passing pouring forth his care-free heart in some simple Holland song and further down the drive among the trees another is rambling along playing a mouth harmonica. Lovers sit on the benches in the dusk and do things that lovers do—open and unreserved, as if they were alone with no one in miles of them. Presently, I see a stately, black cab, drawn by two shining black horses, spinning up the drive. The driver and footman dressed in silk duster and gray plug hat sit stiffly on the high seat. They draw up sharply at the front entrance of the Queen Mother's palace, and a uniformed attendant immediately spreads a velvet carpet over the steps leading to the cab. In a moment the gray-haired old lady appears, together with the queen and the little Princess Wilhelmina. With much bowing and nodding, the shining cab spins away while all along the street I can see the people doffing their hats and bowing low in homage to the peer ladies of the land. True, it is all impressive, yet again it is artificial and not in keeping with such ideals as you and I have been taught to love and uphold.

Bah! How could the queen there help being what she is? Suppose some day when the little princess marries she gives birth to a child, and it proves to be a blooming idiot—it must be the queen or king as the case may be, no matter how brainless. As far as worthiness is concerned, Chief, it might well be that the cab driver is better fitted to fill the place. Of course, I am giving you the extremes of the thing, but it is true that this country is centuries away from true democracy. However, I don't care to talk about these things and will revert back to something a bit more interesting.

The beauty of the Hague at the present time is faultless; and if I didn't love home so well I could spend a delightful summer here. It is the Paris of the Washington, the Berlin of the Netherlands, all in one. You will be surprised to know that half of the town speaks English as well as French and the native language. It is the magnetic pole of the American tourist, and it goes a long way to cater to his whims and fancies, not to mention his pocket-book. To the average Dutchman there are but few Americans who are not millionaires, and he figures that all of them are well able to pay at least a double price for everything. Dutch people do not travel much, and I dare say there are hundreds and hundreds of the populace here who have never been so far as the hour's ride to Rotterdam or Amsterdam, despite the fact that there are half a dozen modes of travel and he has his pick of the canal boat, the electric tram, the steam locomotive, the auto bus or the steam train.

The roads are also delightful for bicycle riding and there is a cycle in every family. Everybody rides bicycles here. Dutch people regard America as a country little short of Elysium, yet so far away that an intimate knowledge of its ways of living is unnecessary. Things that come from there are accepted as "better," yet they don't stop to look into the why's and wherefore's. They see the National cash register and the computing scales in their stores, they watch after the Harley Davidsons, the Indians, the Excelsiors, motorcycles on the roads; they admire the Overlands, the Cadillacs—and the Fords; they feast on our canned goods, sew on our Singer sewing machines; don our Walkover shoes, drink of "Old Kentucky," sing our popular songs of ten years ago, take snap shots with our Kodaks; laugh and cry over our blood and thunder wild west movie films; attempt the Tango and the Tickle toe—and yet to the average Dutchman America is north and south—a distinct race of people, consisting of cow boys, broncho busters, millionaires, a City of New York and a President Wilson. Looking at it from another light, Chief, it is great to note how American industry is coming to the front over here in Europe. The time is coming and you will live to see it when Uncle Samuel will cop the world's dominion of trade. Our country is now upon the threshold of the most wonderful period of its history. The "Made in America" die is about to be cast and there won't be a country or spot on the globe where American made goods isn't topping the market and competing all comers. Chief, it is a great thing to be in a foreign country and have people gaze after you and whisper "American." You feel a thrill that makes your step quicken and your chin to peak at a 45 degrees angle heavenward. Yet it is trying sometimes for me so unversed on etiquette and world affairs to assume a poise equal to the occasion. Perhaps you can imagine my embarrassing plight when I first came here after having dined on army chow from a mess kit for three or four months to suddenly step into the salon of the Hotel des Indes before a bevy of critical lions of world society. No doubt they marveled at the American appetite for it takes more than one dainty dish to fill an Army stomach.

Sunday I am going on another trip

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours. Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenburh, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and drive away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment. Allenburh has been tried and tested for years, and really marvellous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless. Allenburh relieves at once. Immediately after you start it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels. It's marvellous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days. Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenburh, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenburh decisively conquers this worst of all diseases and he has instructed Sayre & Hemphill to guarantee it in every instance. adv

Grow Wheat in Western Canada

One Crop Often Pays for the Land

Western Canada offers the greatest advantages to home seekers. Large profits are assured. You can buy on easy payment terms. Fertile Land at $15 to $30 per Acre—Land similar to that which through many years has averaged from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of cases are on record where in Western Canada a single crop has paid the cost of land and production. The Governments of the Dominion and Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta want the farmer to prosper, and extend every possible encouragement and help to Grain Growing and Stock Raising. Though Western Canada offers land at such low figures, the high prices of grain, cattle, sheep and hogs will remain. Loans for the purchase of stock may be had at low interest; there are good shipping facilities; best of markets; free schools; churches; splendid climate; low taxation (none on improvements). For particulars as to location of lands for sale, maps, illustrated literature, reduced railway rates, etc., apply to Dept. of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or W. S. Rothery, Interurban Bldg., Columbus, Ohio. Canadian Government Agent.

GOITRE

Removed for this Springfield, Ohio, Girl by External Remedy.

Mrs. Frank Beard, 1619 Kane street, Springfield, says in her own home paper the Springfield Daily News: "Sorbol-Quarup removed a goitre of five years' standing for my daughter, five years ago, and it has never bothered her since. It enlarged her neck 1 1/2 inches and made her a nervous wreck. We despaired for her life. It took less than one bottle to restore her to good health. I am glad to tell any one our experience, even by letter."

Sorbol-Quarup comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. After the goitre is removed, the parts are left in a beautiful normal condition. Requires ten minutes daily. Get further information at Sayre & Hemphill's drug store and drug stores everywhere or write Sorbol company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

NEW PARTY IS PROPOSED IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, July 17.—The Daily Mail, a newspaper which has been opposing Premier Lloyd George has stated that Colonel Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, is proposing the formation of a new permanent coalition political party.

The Evening News emphasized the story in its afternoon edition with a streamer headline saying: "The Latest Political Sensation."

Colonel Churchill made a speech at the Criterion restaurant last night, having just returned from a visit to Premier Lloyd George who is recuperating at Criccieth, Wales. It was then the proposal was made public.

The Northcliffe papers "played" the story as a "scoop" over the Chronicle which is close to the premier and which has generally been supposed to be his organ.

The Star, an opposition paper, leads its story with the query: "Is the premier the leader of the new party?"

Colonel Churchill's plan involves a permanent union of moderates in the coalition of both liberals and unionists.

"A Woman There Was"

BY THEDA BARA.

A woman's reply to Rudyard Kipling's famous poem, "The Vampire."

A woman there was, and her love she gave,

(Even as you and I)

To gain the happiness women crave,

(Which doesn't exist, this side the grave.)

But she played the part of a groveling slave,

(Even as you and I!)

Oh, the hearts that ache, and the hearts that break!

But how can a girl command

The passion whose power she does not know,

(A passion for one who never can know)

And never can understand?

A woman there was and her youth she spent,

(Even as you and I!)

Loving and trusting and well content,

(She fancied her happiness Heaven-sent)

Till she learned, too late, what loving meant

(Even as you and I!)

Oh, the truths we learn of the souls that yearn,

When a woman's years are spanned,

And all for a man who could not know

(For, being a man, he never could know)

And could not understand.

The woman lost in her desperate game

(Even as you and I!)

The man was left with his honored name,

(The moth is scorched in the candle's flame)

And the woman it is who reaps the blame

(Even as you and I!)

It isn't the tears nor the bitter years

That sting like a white-hot brand,

It is knowing the man will never know why,

(For, being a man, he can never know why)

And never can understand!

Miss Bara wrote this poem during the filming of her play of the same name, "A Woman There Was."

PROPOSITION FOR SALE OF ROBERTS LAND NOT RECEIVED

Although members of the Xenia Board of Education expected to hear a proposition from the heirs of the Roberts estate, with regard to the tract the board will purchase for the erection of a new school building, at a meeting Wednesday morning they were disappointed in this matter.

Attorney M. J. Hartley, representing the Roberts heirs, was present at the meeting and presented a number of plans for the section, but he did not submit a proposition from Mr. Kauffman, acting for the heirs, as was expected.

Mr. Hartley was requested to have Mr. Kauffman meet with the board, in order that the board and the heirs can get together on the question. No further business was transacted at the meeting.

FEAR OF BEING TEMPTED KEEPS CONVICTS INSIDE

Auburn, July 17.—Convicts in the oldest prison in use in New York State prefer to stay behind the bars rather than enjoy life in the open as workers in road camps. That is the strange announcement made today by State Superintendent of Prisons Chas. F. Rattigan, who declared that the moral fear of the temptation to escape keeps prisoners at Auburn State Prison from accepting the free life of the road instead of the drab monotony inside the walls.

Auburn Prison is located in the heart of the picturesque Finger Lakes Region and the gangs of convict highway builders are stationed at wild spots along the improved roads linking and circling the Finger Lakes. Many have made acquaintances in the summer colonies. Chances for a getaway are numerous. In this environment, the exceptional lure of the lake country to freedom, to independence and to recreation in the zone which was the playground of the Indian, actuates the men in declining to take a chance on resisting the temptation to flee, according to Superintendent Rattigan.

In virtually all cases where escapes have been effected from road camps, the convicts have later been apprehended. Their sentences were then extended. It is the grim fear of this possibility which the superintendent asserts is keeping the men in gray from the woods and glens and limpid waters of the Finger Lakes.

Total of Fourteen.

Put your mathematical friend to the test by asking him to name five uneven figures which, when added together, total 14. After he has given it up set down for him three ones and the figure 11. If he argues that 11 is only one figure, tell him that 11 is made up of two figures. If that solution doesn't satisfy him give him this one: Four ones equal four. Set down another one in front of the four and you have fourteen.

HEARTBURN Caused by Acid-Stomach

That bitter heartburn, belching, food-repeating, indigestion, bloating, eructation, all are caused by acid-stomach. But they are only first symptoms—danger signals to warn you of awful troubles if not stopped. Headache, biliousness, rheumatism, sciatica, that tired, listless feeling, lack of energy, dizziness, insomnia, even cancer and ulcers of the intestines and many other ailments are traceable to ACID-STOMACH.

Thousands—yes, millions—of people who ought to be well and strong are mere wrecks because of acid-stomach. They really starve in the midst of plenty because they do not get enough strength and vitality from the food they eat.

Take EATONIC and give your stomach a chance to do its work right. Make it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. EATONIC brings quick relief for heartburn, belching, indigestion and other stomach miseries. Improves digestion—helps you get full strength from your food. Thousands say EATONIC is the most wonderful stomach remedy in the world. Brought them relief when everything else failed.

Your best testimonial is what EATONIC will do for you. So get a big box of EATONIC today from your druggist, use it five days—if you're not pleased, return it and get your money back.

Famo Does Stop Seborrhea The Dandruff Disease

If you have dandruff, you have Seborrhea. If you have Seborrhea, you will have falling hair and itching scalp and finally—baldness. If the seborrhea reaches the sebaceous glands—baldness. If you use Famo you can kill the bacilli that cause the Seborrhea. If it is falling out your hair is fighting for its life.

Seborrhea Kills Hair
As fast as nature grows new hair the Seborrhea germ kills it off. Unless you kill the germ with Famo, the new hair will grow weaker and weaker, and finally fall altogether. Seborrhea attacks the hair like Pyorrhea attacks the teeth. Famo is a formula worked out by one of the great pharmaceutical houses in Detroit.

These great laboratories supply ninety per cent. of all the physicians and pharmacists in America. In one of them, after three years' work, skilled chemists found Famo. Scientists now know that Seborrhea causes falling hair, and finally baldness. These Detroit chemists say that Famo kills Seborrhea. They say it will not only save hair, but grow it—beautiful, luxuriant hair. In Famo these chemists have combined ingredients they have supplied thousands of times to physicians.

Famo Revolutionary
Never before was this wonder-working formula applied to the growth of the hair. Famo is revolutionary, and works revolutionary results. Not a drop of alcohol is used in its preparation—an unheard of thing. Famo chemists said, "Alcohol hurts the hair and hastens grayness. We will find other ways to hold it together." They succeeded.

Famo Stops Itching
Famo gives to the hair new lustre and intensifies the natural color of the hair. You will note beneficial results from the first application.

The dandruff scale is dissolved and disappears. Famo penetrates the scalp and gives health to the roots of the hair. It stops all itching of the scalp. It retards grayness.

Every member of the family should use it. Even if you do not have dandruff Famo will make the hair more healthy and beautiful. Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters. Applications may be had at the better barber shops. It comes in two sizes—a small size at 35 cents and an extra large bottle at $1.00. Your money will be returned if you are not satisfied. Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhean excretion forms in scales or flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

up in the neighborhood of Ameringen to see the habitude of "hermit" Bill Wilhelm. Not long ago I was there and sat for a long time beneath the trees that bordered a canal that ran quietly along by the court yard gate. The old devil has a picturesque old place in which to pass his days of exile but I'm sure his hard heart longs for Potsdam and Chaussee Unter Den Linden. Kaiser Wilhelm Charlottenburger and other places about his old hang-out. As I sat there in the shade of the fine old trees and watched the water drifting sleepily by I could not but marvel and meditate on the strange circumstance that could lead me here in this sequestered spot not a hundred yards from this world of suffering, the direct cause of all this misery, these fields of dead, these stretches of ruin and wretchedness. To think that he was harbored there behind those very walls almost within a stone's throw. Can you imagine the inspiration, the thrill of adventure that coursed through me. Here was I in a situation that only comes to soldiers in dreams. They often picture themselves stealing up to the kaiser's palace and kidnapping him single handed, yet to be actually placed in a position where you could attempt such a project and sheared of all of its romantic climaxes is a different story. It would be an easy matter however to remain here in this quiet spot until nightfall as not a soul seemed near, or take note of my presence among the thick brambles and gnarled trees. There were two Dutch soldiers standing guard at the front gateway opening to the drive that led up to the old Castle, but it would not be a difficult matter to scale the wall here at the rear and slip among the shrubbery in the garden, thence to the castle; awaiting until the next day hidden among the thick bushes for the knave to come out for his daily walk in the garden. Perhaps there would be two attendants along or in the neighborhood, but I have the advantage of surprise. I could then await the opportune moment when he wandered a bit to himself and then step quietly out, give him a rap on his beam and proceed to drag him back through the bushes to the foot of the rear wall haul him over with a rope, drop him in the waiting auto and speed with him across the border to Belgium. This all looks good on paper, Chief, but the best I could accomplish would be an easy cold blood murder and I don't want to assume the role—so I just sat there watching the lazy water slip by and wondered how onearth I and the wildflower at my foot, a Bellwort, ever happened to grace this spot so far from home. Life and youth is certainly mysterious.

But although such experiences might seem romantic to you Chief, I am happy to relate a still better one. Most every evening after work is done and the office is closed I don my one and only beloved blue serge and hop on the rattling little steam tram that jiggles you down along the banks of the Ski Canal to the historical quaint little town of Delft with its many old churches and tall spires, its hump back bridges and its shaded canals. I have found a rather singular attraction there—er-a-a and she don't eat smoke eets or wear wooden shoes either. I think I have spent some of the happiest evenings of my life in this wonderful little village with "Rika." Sitting on the front balcony of her house one looks down on the quiet canal bordered with its uniform lime trees with now and then a canal boat poled laboriously yet noiselessly along through the town laden with cheese or beer or butter or flowers. Above the trees lifts a great spire that leans dangerously like the tower of Pisa. It is the old church of William of Orange and just across from it stands the very house where he was so cruelly murdered. It is known as the Prinsenhof. I have often walked about the place and even in the court yard where the custodian always points the hole in the wall made by one of the bullets that killed the prince. I have fallen in love with Delft and its quaint old streets and places so hallowed with antiquity and historical traditions and facts, and of an evening as I sit there on the balcony above the quiet canal sipping tea from a genuine old Delft faience. (Perhaps you know of the notorious "Delft Ware") and listening to the mellow chimes tolling from the belfries with the storks winging toward their nest on the chimney tops—I feel a spirit of real romance stealing over me until from out of the stillness Rika addressing me in Dutch and I must muster up all of my energy to ward the laborious attempt at a reply—in Dutch. Exit Romance.

Well, Chief, I hope you will let this pass as a reply to your kind letter. It is a poor one I admit but here of late it has been hard for me to concentrate on anything other than thoughts of home as I have information to the effect that within the course of the next ten days I am to proceed back to headquarters at the Pathe laboratories at Paris which I think is the first lap of my journey homeward.

Here is luck to you and best wishes to all of the boys and remember me to your dear mother.

P. S.—By the way Chief, I was talking to a Dutchman barber here the other day who says that he has been to America. I asked him if he knew anyone there and he studied a while and then said "Whoy, Yah Mijner, Ik ken aan man vot iss by der name of Teddy Richards vot's lifts in der town von Zaderville und vot spake all tide off baze pool-baze pool baze pool. He has aan shop daay in dits town vaar he brangt all de boys und de manns und spake mit dem off baze-pool. HELD LIABLE FOR PROPERTY DAMAGE

Wichita, Kan., July 18.—Tenants are held liable for the damage and destruction of houses they rent, according to Judge Jesse Wall, of the Municipal court. Judge Wall gave this decision in the case of Mrs. Nan-nie Senning, against Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Kyle, who rented from her. The wall paper was marked, lattice work torn, floors scarred by heavy furniture, window shades ripped, 25 nail holes in the wall and other marks on the house after nine months' occupancy by the Kyles, said the plaintiff. She secured damages amounting to $70.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR AT DAYTON "WORKS"

Dayton, July 18.—There is a shortage of labor at the Dayton work house. The city is erecting a new prison at the farm near the corporation and the buildings are going up by convict labor. Everything went smoothly enough until the state went dry and no where are only about a hundred available for the work when in the old days there were almost always 200 or more.

HERE IS WOMAN WHO MARRIED SEVEN MEN

Stuebenville, July 18.—Mrs. Della Hay Holt Graham Perry, aged 40, is in the county all here awaiting trial on the charge of bigamy, of which she has been indicted by the grand jury. She is said to have admitted to Jefferson county authorities that she had married seven husbands. "Perry," "Graham" and "Holt" are said to be the most recently acquired husbands by this fascinating woman.

SALE OF LOW PER CENT BEER WOULD DEFEAT PURPOSE OF PROHIBITION

Washington, July 17.—To allow the sale of 2-34 per cent beer would keep alive the liquor trade and defeat the purpose of national prohibition, declared Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the anti-saloon league of American yesterday before senate judiciary committee, conducting hearings on prohibition enforcement legislation.

The statement of Wheeler was in the nature of a reply to recent testimony of Samuel Undermyer before the same committee in which the attorney advised that the brewers be allowed to sell 2-34 per cent beer direct to the consumer.

"The friends of prohibition do not want an enforcement code unless it defines intoxicating liquor," Mr. Wheeler continued.

Mr. Wheeler told the committee

"that every one of the 33 dry states had defined this term and local option states had also done so." He challenged Mr. Undermyer to show any court decision denying congress or a legislature the right to define terms.

"In view of this experience with the traffic in ninety per cent of the territory of this nation, congress cannot consistently adopt a weaker standard in defining the term than that which has been already enacted in these states," he said. "This means nothing can be sold for beverage purposes that contains more than one half of one per cent of alcohol."

"The brewers are just as responsible for the evils of the traffic as the retail liquor dealers," he added, referring to Undermyer's statement that "saloons are the kindergartens of crime."

CONSIDER WAY TO REDUCE THE COST OF LIVING

Washington, July 16.—Living costs presented a question second only to the peace treaty in the interest of the senate today.

Two movements were underway to secure information upon which legislative action may be taken to reduce the cost of living. Senator Gronna plans an exhaustive hearing on two bills designed for control of the packing industry which he believes will show interesting facts concerning high food costs and Senator Sherman of Illinois was today completing plans for an investigation of his living costs in the District of Columbia.

While this investigation is intended only to take up food costs in the District of Columbia, there were indications that its scope would be considerably widened.

Senator Capper of Kansas, a member of the special subcommittee appointed by Senator Sherman, has indicated that he will strive to show in the investigation some of the causes which are keeping food costs above normal. Capper, a champion of the farmer, has announced his intention to absolve the farmer from the blame of the high costs. He stated today that in his opinion the retail dealers are to blame to a large extent and pointed out that while cattle are selling for lower prices than several months ago, the retail prices on meats are not declining. Capper proposes to summon witnesses who can give information as to the high cost of wearing apparel and is firm in his belief that testimony will show that dealers are responsible for high prices.

Meanwhile a storm was brewing in the senate on the regulation of the packers. Senator Kenyon who is the author of one bill which would place the packers under government control, declared that there is a widespread movement on foot to create sentiment for the packers. At the same time there is also an anti-packer movement, evident from the large number of telegrams being received from householders demanding some action against the packers and high prices.

Such great pressure was being brought to bear for the lowering of living costs that it was predicted today by party leaders that some action would be taken, which would at least be an attempt at relief, as soon as the peace treaty has been disposed of.

AUTO BANDITS ARE HEAVILY GUARDED

Cleveland, Ohio, July 17.—Heavily guarded in the Lake county jail at Painesville to prevent possible violence from the citizens of Willoughby, one of whose residents was killed yesterday by Andrew and Patrick Keboy, 20 and 18, auto bandits faced charges of first degree murder today.

Police hope to clear up responsibility for more than 100 burglaries by their arrest. Patrick Keboy also confessed having taken part in the theft of a half dozen automobiles.

In addition to Earnest Gray who was instantly killed yesterday by the bandits there was a possibility that Bernard McCarthy may die. McCarthy was shot through the back, the bullet piercing his left lung. Physicians said today that his condition is critical.

MOCKS STUTTERER AND NOW HE'S GOT HABIT

New York, July 18.—Michael Bakun, of Brooklyn, probably will stutter for some time after he has been mocked by Daniel Mucrine, one of his fellow workers who has stuttered since birth. Bakun mocked Mucrine and the latter swung one on his jaw which broke it. When Bakun appeared in court he stuttered so badly he could hardly talk.

SIGNAL LIGHTS AND NOT DYNAMITE

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 18.—The police made a rush trip when Miss Rose Anon telephoned that she had discovered six sticks of dynamite on her porch. The cops tenderly lifted a cushion from a rocker, saw the "dynamite" and wrapping the sticks in a paper hauled them back to the police station. An expert was called and pronounced the explosive simply red signal lights used by railroad men and vidently boys hid them for their Fourth of July celebration.

LOOK FOR FATHER OF DYING CHILD

Akron, July 16.—Police are looking for the father of little Frank Lebinsky, aged 3, who is near death in the children's hospital as the result of falling from a second story window. The father is said to have deserted the mother and five children a week ago. The child, after falling from the window, lay on the sidewalk for two hours, with a fractured skull before being found by other children.

ELECTRIC THIEF QUOTED THE BIBLE

Bellaire, Ohio, July 18.—"Thou shalt not steal" was the concluding sentence in a letter received by the Wheeling Electric Company in which was enclosed a check for $7.25 from a man who had tapped the wire of the company and had been using current without the company's knowledge. He believed the check would cover the amount.

WILL RECOVER AFTER FASTING 42 DAYS

Long Beach, Cal., July 18.—After having fasted for forty-two days in an effort to find relief for a malady which followed influenza, Miss Gladys Thorp of No. 431 East Sixteenth street, will recover, according to the belief of her physician. Because of the long fast it was believed she could not regain her strength but she is now able to take liquids.

LONDON SEES THIRD PARADE OF U. S. TROOPS

London, July 17.—London saw today the third parade of American soldiers since the beginning of the war. A composite regiment of 3,500 of General Pershing's veterans arrived at Waterloo station during the morning and marched down the Strand and through Birdcage walk, while Londoners madly cheered them.

The regiment will have a six day holiday and every doughboy will be treated as the honest guest of England. No camp work will be necessary as the men are billeted in hotels near the United States Embassy.

The British authorities have provided an elaborate program. Sol Joel, the theatrical magnate and James White, a Scotch contractor contributed $100,000 for the entertainment of the Americans.

The composite regiment is made up of eight men from every infantry company of six American divisions in addition to a scattering of marines. The doughboys will be reviewed by General Pershing and a gathering of notables at Hyde Park tomorrow morning. In the afternoon the American officers will attend the races at Sandown Park while the men are sightseeing. The National Sporting Club has prepared a special program for the entertainment of the visitors. On Saturday evening there will be a display of fireworks at Hyde Park and also a parade. On Sunday the American officers will be taken on an excursion to Windsor castle, while the doughboys will be taken through the city in busses. In the evening the officers will be entertained at dinner at the Carlton hotel, while the men will visit the Palace theater.

The British fleet will be visited on Monday by both officers and men, the trip being made in a special steamer from South End, Tuesday will be given over to sightseeing.

The Americans will leave for France on Wednesday.

AMERICAN TROOPS WITHDRAW FROM NORTHERN RUSSIA

London, July 17.—The American troops in northern Russia have all been withdrawn with the exception of the railway guards and those too will be taken away soon, said a wireless message from the Bolshevik regime today. Announcement was recently made in London that the British forces in northern Russia would be withdrawn with the exception of experts who would be left behind to assist the White Guard or anti-Bolshevik troops.

WILD BLACKBERRIES ARE VERY PLENTIFUL

Unless great heat and drouth come within the next week or so, "blackberryin'" will become one of the favorite outdoor sports.

Bushes are hanging full of the luscious fruit, and to all appearances the crop of wild blackberries will be one of the largest in years.

Already the berries are beginning to turn but there are more unripe than ripe fruit yet on the bushes and it will be about a week before the harvest is at its height. The recent rains and cooler weather were the salvation of the wild blackberry crop, which would otherwise have fallen victim to the heat and drouth.

CLEVELAND TELEPHONE STRIKERS ALL SET FOR A LONG BATTLE

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Backed by the Cleveland federation of labor, the telephone strikers today settled down for a long struggle. The federation will assist the phone operators and electrical workers in financing their strike and will give other assistance.

The next move is expected to come from City Council Friday night when it will hear a report from the special committee which made an investigation of conditions prevailing in the strike.

The committee will charge that: The telephone companies are collecting for calls actually uncompleted. The Ohio State Telephone company is paralyzed except for its main exchange.

The public if charged for service during the strike will pay the phone companies thousands of dollars to which they are not entitled.

The telephone officials should be censured for their refusal to arbitrate. Recommendations will also be made calling upon Postmaster General Burleson to use his powers to end the strike and urge an investigation of alleged importation of strike breakers.

SHANTUNG SETTLEMENT IS STORM CENTER IN WORLD LEAGUE DEBATE

By J. Bart Campbell.

Washington, July 17.—Opposition in the senate to the Shantung settlement will continue despite any declaration Japan may make that she is prepared to relinquish full territorial rights within Kiau Chau or any other part of the Chinese province, Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho an uncompromising league of nations opponent stated today.

When the senate reconvened at noon Borah said he was prepared to call up his resolution requesting the president for the written protest against the Shantung pact which Secretary Lansing General Bliss and Henry White as three of the American peace commissioners, were said to have signed, while the peace commission was still engaged at Paris with Japanese demands.

Borah and Senator Sherman of Illinois were among the Republicans who announced that they were ready to renew the fight over the Shantung in the senate before the end of the day. Both Borah and Sherman planned to deliver addresses on the Shantung settlement in which they were to denounce it. Borah expressed the opinion that the American people "would not be fooled by any scrap of paper" Japan might have to offer in explanation for the Shantung robbery.

"Japan may try to camouflage her intentions regarding Shantung by stating that all she desires there are certain economic concessions, but the fact remains that she expects to control the port of Kiau Chau, the gateway to China and the railroads leading therefrom," Borah said. "She may prate about being prepared to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China inside of six months, but does anybody versed in the history of Japanese relations with the Chinese believe for a moment that she intends to get out of Shantung? Her promised withdrawal of her troops from Shantung means nothing. She could send her troops back to Shantung whenever she was ready to invent a pretext for doing so."

Borah was among those Republican senators who displayed keen interest in the International News Service dispatch from Paris late yesterday afternoon after a member of the Japanese delegation was reported stating: "We are prepared to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China inside of six months. We are anxious to settle the whole question. We ask nothing better than a return."

EIGHT BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED IN EXPLOSION

Berlin, July 16.—via London, July 17.—Eight guards are missing and are believed to have perished in an explosion of two ammunition sheds at Hohensoehausen, near Berlin, today. Fire followed the explosion.

A communist plot is suspected, as there are evidences that the fire was of incendiary origin. Tens of thousands of mines, explosive caps and fuses were destroyed.

The terrific detonation broke windows in houses several miles from the scene of the explosion. An investigation is under way.

AMERICA WILL GIVE ONLY "MORAL AID"

Paris, July 17.—The United States will give only "moral aid" if the peace conference decides to take military action against the Hungarian reds and increase the military measures in Russia, according to the American delegates today. It would be limited to furnishing supplies it is believed.

Greece's claims in Asia Minor were presented to the conference by M. Venizelos, the Greek premier, on Wednesday afternoon.

ROBBED SELF TO FOOL HIS BEST GIRL

Wheeling, W. Va., July 18.—Frank J. Bostovis found himself in a box fix when his best girl pressed him for the automobile which he promised to buy her. Frank's whole bankroll was less than $20, so he placed a gag in his mouth, tied his wrists and lay down on the sidewalk. To the police men who found him, Bostovis told a story of having been robbed of $900 just the amount of money he needed to buy the auto for his girl. His tale didn't sound good to the officers and he finally confessed.

of territory in accordance with the treaty of 1915. It is necessary, however, that China enter into negotiations with us, which hitherto she has declined to do."

Borah declared the statement to be "sheer bunk." Japan already controls 7 per cent of the mines of China," he declared. "She dominates Manchuria. She has gained a foothold in Shantung. She has China by the throat—economically, or territorially, call it whatever you please."

Administration senators, on the other hand, construed the Paris announcement as indicating that Japan was ready soon to define her position with respect to Shantung in a manner that would not only tend to clarify the situation, but cause the senatorial opposition to the Shantung provision of the peace treaty to dwindle.

Within the next 24 or 48 hours, official Washington expected today that Tokio would be officially heard from on Shantung and the president's supporters in the senate predicted that the opposition to the Shantung pact of "irreconcilables" like Sherman and Borah would eventually prove as unavailing as their opposition to the proposed entry of the United States into the League of Nations.

Republican senators, other than Borah and Sherman, however, reiterated that the two-thirds vote essential to the ratification by the senate of the Shantung settlement, along with the rest of the peace treaty would not be forthcoming. Shantung was an issue, they added, which would be fought to a finish.

The senate foreign relations committee continued today its preliminary consideration of the peace treaty. It was regarded as a foregone conclusion that a majority report made by the Republicans in control of the committee and a minority report prepared by the administration senators would be sent to the senate with the resolution of ratification by which the senate is expected to go on record on the treaty itself.

"There will still be plenty of debate in the senate," commented Senator Lodge.

Neither Senator Lodge nor any other Republicans on the committee signified any desire to confer with the president at present on any aspect of the treaty. If they were provided with the information they sought from the state department, they would be satisfied, Senator Lodge explained. Whether they would accept the president's invitation to visit him at the White House they had not even discussed, they said.

JAPAN RESENTS ALLEGATIONS AGAINST HER

Paris, July 17.—The statement made by a member of the Japanese peace commission in an exclusive interview with the International News Service late yesterday that Japan was ready to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China within six months, and resents allegations that she intends to hold Kiau Chau in perpetuity, aroused great interest in peace conference circles today. Neither the Chinese delegates in the far eastern problem have thus far commented upon the statement.

"We are prepared to restore full territorial rights in Kiau Chau to China within six months," said the Japanese delegate. "We are most anxious to settle the whole question. We ask nothing better than to return the territory in accordance with the treaty of 1915."

"It is necessary, however, that China enter into negotiations with us, which hitherto she has declined to do."

The Japanese delegates told the International News Service that French assertions that Baron Makio had handed the big four a secret written undertaking to restore Kiau Chau to China, were untrue.

"Such a written promise is already incorporated in the 1915 treaty and in an interchange of notes in September, 1918," he said. "The Japanese delegation would allow no plenipotentiary to doubt the sincerity of that pledge by asking additional written assurances."

"It is true that verbal reassurances were given the big four in this respect but no formal secret written instrument was presented. This would have been entirely superfluous in view of our exciting formal undertakings."

LA-MAY FACE POWDER DOES NOT CONTAIN ANY WHITE LEAD

Now you can use a pure face powder that is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate baby skin. It will not cause enlarged pores, blackheads and irritations. And, it really stays on better than any other face powder. It does not contain white lead or starch. The specialist who makes this improved powder uses a medicinal ingredient that doctors use to heal the skin. In fact, this new powder helps to prevent and reduce enlarged pores and pimples. It is also astringent, discouraging flabbiness, crows' feet and wrinkles. Because it is pure and because it stays on so well, this La-may powder (French, Poudre L'Amé) is now used by over a million American women. The large size is only fifty cents and the trial size is twenty-five cents. Remember La-may is guaranteed absolutely pure. Five thousand dollars reward is offered any chemist who finds it contains any white lead or rice powder. Refuse substitutes. Your common sense will tell you that when you are offered a substitute it is sure to be a demonstrator trying to sell an inferior powder that pays a big commission. When you use this absolutely pure La-may and see how splendidly it beautifies your complexion, you will understand why it so quickly became the most popular beauty powder sold in New York. Save this notice. La-may Rouge is also pure.

Senile Marriages.
Some bygone lawmakers would have been in sympathy with the Brooklyn millionaire who maintains that at 86 he was too old to be legally married. In Rome, under the Emperor Augustus, a law was passed forbidding men to marry when they were over 60, and women when they were over 50. Peter the Great, also disapproved of senile marriage, and enacted that no marriage age contract should hold good if either of the contracting parties was over 80 at the time it was entered upon.

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation. This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return. Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Sayre & Hemphill dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever. IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

Notice of Sale of Bonds

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Clerk of the Village of Jamestown, State of Ohio, until 12 o'clock noon of the 4th day of August, 1919, for the purchase of bonds for the said Village in the aggregate sum of Twenty-eight Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($2,850.00). Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be in the denominations and mature as follows:

No.	Denomination	Maturity
1.	$500.00	August 1st, 1920
2.	$500.00	August 1st, 1921
3.	$500.00	August 1st, 1922
4.	$500.00	August 1st, 1923
5.	$500.00	August 1st, 1924

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of creating a fund for the payment of a Combination Auto Fire Truck, and under authority of the laws of Ohio, and of Section 3923 General Code, and in accordance with a certain ordinance entitled, "An Ordinance to Issue Bonds," passed on the 19th day of May 1919.

All bids must state the number of bonds bid for the gross amount of the bid and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids must be accompanied with a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the Village of Jamestown, Ohio, for 10 per cent of the amount of bonds bid for, upon the consideration that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth, within ten days from the time of award, said check to be retained by said village if said condition is not fulfilled.

The Village of Jamestown reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Bids to be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Fire Truck Bonds." Dated this 23rd day of June, 1919.

JAMESTOWN TO

The big annual Jamestown Fair, introducing a good speed program and a great midway featured by Lages Great Empire Shows, appears to be bigger and better than ever this year. The Fair will be held six days and nights beginning Monday, July 28, and lasting until August 2. At night there will be no admission charged at the gate and entrance will be free.

TONY ANGELLA IS TOUCHED FOR ROLL

Tony Angella, giving his address as Xenia, reported the theft of $200 to Springfield police Tuesday night. Angella was walking along East North street near the O. S. Kelly shop about 10:30 Tuesday night when he met a strange woman.

Thirty minutes later he reported to police that ten brand new $20 bills he had drawn Tuesday from a Xenia bank, were missing from his pocket. Police are searching for the woman Angella's name could not be found in the City Directory here.

LIGHTNING BURNS HOLE THROUGH HAY

Lightning played strange freaks on the barn at the home of Ervin Huffman on the Jasper pike.

Striking the structure during the severe rain storm of Tuesday afternoon, the lightning tore a small strip of weather boarding from the side of the barn, and then burned its way clear through the hay in the mow.

The lightning left a hole burned out big enough for it to pass through, but beyond that did not burn or set fire to the hay.

The small loss is covered by insurance.

MOTOR AIDS

Long cuts in tires are usually caused by the sudden application of the brake due to the car traveling faster than the tire proportionally revolves, and when a sharp obstacle of any description comes in contact with the tire surface, it naturally cuts the rubber in place of the tire rolling over it.

Thin spots on the tread of a tire are also usually caused by applying the brake. When a rear tire wears continually in one spot, the cause may be invariably traced to the brake drum having locked in the same place each time the brake is applied.

Apply the brake cautiously and these troubles will be avoided. Of course, there are times when conditions warrant the sudden stop, but nine times out of ten the brake can be applied gently. In fact frequent tests have shown that a car can be stopped more safely for its passengers and in a shorter distance, by a gentle application of the brakes, and the wear will be greatly reduced.

GREENE COUNTY FAIR TO BE GREATER AND MORE GLORIOUS THAN EVER

Heralding a promise of "bigger and better" the eightieth annual "great and glorious" Greene County Fair is announcing its dates of August 5, 6, 7 and 8.

With all of the usual features scheduled for on an even greater plane, and a number of new, startling and interesting free acts to add to the attractions of the annual event, the fair this year will have little difficulty in not only living up to but exceeding its previous reputation.

The speed department, in charge of C. M. Austin, is presenting a racing program of much interest to horsemen and lovers of the racing sport. As usual, there will be no speed events on the opening day, but Wednesday will open up with three events—a 2:20 pace, a 2:24 trot and a 2:11 pace being scheduled. On Thursday, there will be a 2:20 trot, a 2:20 pace and a 2:16 trot, and on Friday, the final day, a 2:25 pace, a 2:30 trot and a 2:15 pace. Purse of $300 have been provided for each event.

There are five classes listed in the horse judging department, including saddle ponies and horses, draft horses, roaster horses, sweepstakes horses and fancy mare or gelding. In the cattle department premiums will be given for Shorthorns and Polled Durhams, Herefords, Polled Angus and Galloways, Holsteins, Jerseys, Polled Jerseys, Sweepstakes cattle, Breeders young herds.

In the sheep department, the following classes will be judged: Oxforddowns, Southdowns, Hampshire-downs, Shropshire-downs, Long Wool, American Merinos, Delaine Merinos, Lincoln Cheviots, Rambouillets, Dorsets, Sweepstakes sheep, Downs (all breeds), Long Wools (all breeds), Fine Wools (all breeds).

In the swine departments the following classes are entered: Berkshire, Poland China, Chester White, Duroc Jersey, Hampshires, Sweepstakes on Swine, Berkshires and Hampshires, Poland China, Chester White and Duroc Jersey.

Poultry will be featured as usual, including besides chickens, peafowls, guineas, pigeons, toys and Belgian Hares.

The needle and miscellaneous work department will be particularly large and interesting, including French and eyelet embroidery, cotton embroidery, (white) colored embroidery, cross stitch, infant department, dresser sets, tatting, crochet work, crochet braid work, knitting, machine sewing, hand sewing, sofa pillows, miscellaneous embroidery, fancy articles, etc.

In the painting and drawing departments the classes are water color, pastel, black and white, oil painting, photographs and pictures, and china painting.

Other departments are the children's department, domestic manufactures, cut flowers by amateurs, cut flowers by professionals, breads, cakes, sweetmeats, home-made confections, young ladies' baking exhibit, preserves, canned fruit and jellies, dairy and other products, pickles and catsup, farm and garden products and fruits, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, onions, beans, miscellaneous, wheat, other grains, oats, clover seed, corn, sweet corn, fruit, summer and fall apples, winter apples, pears, peaches, quinces, grapes, plums and finally the education department, with County Superintendent of Schools F. M. Reynolds in charge, which, it is thought this year will make the school exhibit more interesting than ever.

"The Intercounty Quoit Tournament which started last year at the instigation of the Xenia Quoit Club, will also be a feature of the Fair this year. Games will be played on the especially prepared grounds at the Fair Grounds under the rules of the Xenia Quoit Club. Twenty-five dollars will be divided between the winning teams. M. J. Bebb, captain of the Xenia Quoit Club is receiving entries for which any team in this or adjoining counties is eligible.

Four free features are being advertised by the committee this year including the Dellamed Troupe, the Earle Sisters, Joe Kiljoy, acrobat and the Ferris Wheel Girls. These amusements are always popular and supplement the Midway which as usual will be lined with its assortment of shows and amusements. Free acts will take place in front of the grandstand between heats for the amusement of the racing fans.

With the big Fair only three weeks off, interest is increasing and since the war is over and people do not have such serious matters to occupy their minds, it is estimated that the largest crowds ever recorded here will visit the grounds on the big days.

COME LET US REASON TOGETHER.

We commend to some gentlemen of the American Senate the 11th verse of the 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians: "When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child, but when I became a man I put away childish things." For the reason that some of the Senators have not put away childish things. Even though they have before them the most momentous question of the age, they dabble away their time, the precious time for which the nation pays them, in flippancy rhetoric on suppositious objections to the League of Nations.

An argument, to have convincing force, must have a base of strength, and this is just what much of this Senatorial bombast against the League lacks. It is based on prejudice, which, considering the vital import of the subject, is beneath the manliness of the men. He who, when considering a momentous question, lets prejudice sway him, is possessed with a devil, that often shuts out the truth and leads to irretrievable error.

The question is being asked whether if there had been a league of nations America could have come to the assistance of Cuba in 1898 and whether France could have come to the assistance of our colonies in the Revolution.

Had we had a league before the war with Spain undoubtedly the council or the assembly of the league would have used such pressure in behalf of Cuba as would have compelled attention and reform. Spain would surely never have been chosen as she has been now to be one of the four minor nations to be added to the big five in the council, if the reconcentrado camps in Cuba had been crying to heaven for redress.

The moral and economic force of a repressing league is going to be a mighty factor in the future, even if an organized boycott is not decreed. It will now become the duty of each nation to become its brother's keeper and to look out for every oppressed part on earth.

As to France coming to our help in the Revolution, the analogy is not competent, for the reason that France was a monarchy, and no nations which are not free are to be admitted to the League of Nations. Great Britain is today essentially republican, so is Italy; and even in Japan the ministry is responsible to the Parliament. All the other signatories are literally or essentially republican.

The question as to what a league established by free governments in 1919 would have done in 1779, when there were no free governments in the world, is as senseless as similar comparisons regarding transportation in the time of the Lusitania in terms of conditions that obtained in the time of the Mayflower.

If these recalcitrant Senators would put their ears to the ground they could hear a mighty rumble of approbation for the speedy ratification of the Paris made Treaty of Peace, which would put a stop to their flippant objections. They do not seem to sense their awful folly. And if any of them have in their bonnets the Presidential bee of 1920 we can assure them that no man who votes against this treaty will ever be President of the United States.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

"How should I act when a guest of mine makes a bad blunder," asked Helen.

"It is a rule of hospitality that demands loyalty on the part of the hostess to any guest. She may regret having extended hospitality to this guest, but so long as the relation of guest and hostess exist the greatest loyalty and courtesy must be preserved. So when one of your guests makes a great blunder, swallow your amusement and your pride and make the best of it," answered her older friend.

PACKERS WILL PAY 25 TO 50 PER CENT OF COST FOR CANNED GOODS.

Rejection by the War Department of packers' bids on 143,000,000 pounds of army meat opens the way for the sale of the meat to the general public at cost, if municipalities and civic organizations can be induced to finance the distribution.

In rejecting the bids, which ranged from 25 to 50 per cent of the cost of the meat to the government, Secretary Baker announced that the department had decided to sell assorted lots of government meats and other canned goods to any organizations desiring to buy. The department, he said, had accepted an offer of the Mayor of Baltimore of $2,500 for a miscellaneous supply of canned meats and vegetables at actual cost to be retailed throughout Baltimore at cost.

The secretary said the department stood ready to make sales of its surplus meats and vegetables to any other municipality on a similar basis. The army has a surplus stock of canned vegetables amounting to 5,500,000 cases.

The meats and canned vegetables, which now will be sold in smaller quantities than the carload lots first required, will be disposed of in the thirteen army supply zones.

"A majority of the bids received were from packing concerns, many of them bidding exclusively for their own products. Highest prices offered for 'Serial 8 bacon' (in crates) were approximately 50 per cent of its cost to the government. 'Serial 10 bacon' (packed in 12-pound cans) received bids of approximately only 45 per cent of cost, corned beef hash at 25 per cent of cost and roast beef at 35 per cent of cost price, although one packing company bid 50 per cent of cost for 15,000 cans of roast beef of its own pack."

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

SANDRA GOES OVER THE HOUSE CHAPTER XV

I was terribly uncomfortable all thru dinner. Hetty served us and every little while she would cast a sympathizing glance in my direction. It comforted me, but I knew it would anger Everett if he caught her, so I tried to avoid looking at her as much as possible.

"Now go and take down that ridiculous tower effect," Everett said, as we rose from the table. "You have altogether too much hair to do it that way."

"I'll finish my unpacking, if you will excuse me," I returned. He had told me to take my hair down before the housekeeper. "One would think me a child instead of a married woman to hear him talk." I thought as I climbed the stairs to my room. But as soon as I opened the door I forgot my annoyance, everything but the exquisite room which was to be mine. "Wont Rose Grandon stare when she sees this?" I said aloud. "I will ask her to come during vacation. That settled to my satisfaction, I proceeded to unpack. It was a perfect delight to lay my clothes away in the padded bureau-drawers scented with lavender, and to hang my wraps and gowns in the big closets. I lingered over it so long that Everett called to know if I were coming down again.

"If you want me."

"I'd like some music if you are not too tired."

"No, indeed," I called back. "I'll be right down."

I had quite a talent for music, the only one I possessed. Mother was a good musician and I had been well taught. I played an hour for him. Then he sent me to bed.

"Aren't you coming too?"

"Not for awhile."

As I mounted the stairs, he spoke to the housekeeper. I heard the word "library" and then something about him doing as he always had done.

What had he done that he talked over with the housekeeper? I couldn't ask her, neither could I question Everett. But I could wait and see. Perhaps Hetty would know. I could ask her anything I wanted to. She would tell me I felt sure.

I was tired with the journey and the excitement, so went directly to bed—my last waking thought that Rose would be crazy over my lovely home.

The entire house was richly furnished. But of all the rooms, my own room in the soft gray and rose, suited me best. It didn't look as if it had been used very much, while the rest of the house showed some wear.

At breakfast the next morning, Everett said: "Mrs. Gray will show you over the house today. You will want to know where things are kept."

Mrs. Gray didn't look a bit pleased; but said nothing.

After Everett had left the office she came to my door and I knew by the jangling of a bunch of keys that she had come for me. And I knew by the expression on her face, that she did not relish her job—also I couldn't understand why she felt unkindly towards me.

I jumped up immediately.

"Perhaps we better commence with the linen, Mrs. Graham," she said coldly, preceding me down the stairs.

"Just as you say," I returned carelessly. I really thought it was going to be an awful bore to spend my morning going thru closets, and neither could I see the necessity for it when we had a housekeeper. But it was Everetts wish—rather, his command—so I must do as he had told me.

I answered her politely when she showed me the piles of neatly stacked sheets and pillow cases, or the table linen and towels. I was more impatient when she insisted upon opening drawers and closets. By the time we were half thru I was bored to death, and yawning. I wanted to go back to my own room and write to Rose and to Mother.

"You don't seem interested," Mrs. Gray finally said.

"Forgive me, but really I am not! I don't see why you should be bothered to show me all these things. I am going to live here. There will be time enough to see them, I guess."

"Then you don't intend to take charge?"

"Me! in this big house? Why I couldn't to save my life. Aren't you going to stay? Oh, please do!"

My first dislike was forgotten in the fear that I was to be left to manage the house. "Mother never let me do but the simplest things to help. She said I was too young."

Tomorrow—Who Could She Be?

Cambridge, Mass., July 18.—Honorary members, if they expect to spend their cooling hours in Harvard studies, in addition to pursuing their studies in the Summer schools are doomed to disappointment this year. The school for newweds, as the Summer school authorities offered all the comforts of home to those who wished to take the six weeks' instruction at Cambridge.

But this year no special arrangement has been made in Gore or Standish halls for married folks. The custom of the past few years in reserving a wing for them in one of these halls has been given up. The women of the school will be quartered in Gore hall and eat there, while the men will room in Standish hall and take their meals at Smith hall. The authorities have provided a chaperon at Gore.

Refractories Company's Stationary Engineer Gives Nerv-Worth All the Credit.

In source and quality this signed statement is one of the most convincing on record:

"For twelve years I have had stomach trouble. My digestion was poor and had bloating of the stomach and belching and gas. I was so nervous I would often at night jump out of bed to get relief. My nerves were so affected I could scarcely write a letter. I saw Nerv-Worth advertised in the Portsmouth Times and I decided to try it. I have been taking Nerv-Worth for two months and must say my stomach is getting in fine shape, so that what I eat agrees with me. My nerves are getting better and I have gained twenty-two pounds."

BLOOD IS YOUR LIFE; YOU MUST KEEP IT PURE

All Impurities Must Be Eliminated.

When the blood becomes foul from the presence of poisonous substances, which the body is unable to throw off it can no longer supply the nerves, brain and muscles with nourishment and strength. The result is that you are miserable, half sick and feel tired all the time.

If you will cleanse the blood of all impurities, you will find that your work will be a pleasure, you will eat and sleep well and enjoy good health. One of the best blood cleansers or purifiers known today is the prescription of a successful physician. He used it for years in his practice for the treatment of disorders of the blood.

You can still get this same splendid prescription, ready prepared, from your druggist. Just call for Prescription C-2223, or the C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn., will mail you a $1.50 bottle on receipt of price.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, opium, morphine, chloral or strychnine. While sold in concentrated form, and is to be taken in small doses, its use will not harm the most delicate stomach. Write for literature—C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn.

LEGAL NOTICE

Estate of Michael Moran, deceased. John J. Gulliday has been appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate of Michael Moran, late of Greene County, Ohio, deceased. Dated this 1st day of July, A. D. 1919. J. CARL MARSHALL, Probate Judge of Said County. 7-310,17

LEGAL NOTICE

Scaled bids will be received at the office of the Auditor of the City of Xenia, Ohio, until 12 o'clock, noon of Thursday, the 14th day of August, 1919, for the purchase of the following bond issue of the City of Xenia, Ohio:

Ten Thousand Dollar ($10,000) bonds, issued in anticipation of the general revenue of said City of Xenia for the purchase of a Combination Auto Fire Truck for the use of said City. Said bonds are issued under authority of the laws of the State of Ohio, and of Section 3399 of the General Code of Ohio, and under and in accordance with a certain ordinance of the City Commission, being ordinance No. 62, and passed by the City Commission on the 12th day of June, 1919.

Said bonds are dated September 1st, 1919, and in the denominations of One Thousand Dollars each bearing interest at the rate of Five and One-half per cent per annum, interest payable semi-annually, interest coupons attached; said bonds are numbered from one to ten inclusive and payable at the Citizens' National Bank of Xenia, Ohio, and mature as follows: To-wit: One Thousand Dollars, September 1st, 1920, and One Thousand Dollars September 1st of each year thereafter, to and including September 1st, 1929.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for not less than par and accrued interest.

All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and gross amount of bid and accrued interest, to date of delivery. Bids must be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Combination Auto Fire Truck."

All bids must be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the City of Xenia, Ohio, for Three (3) per cent of the amount of bonds bid for, upon the condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for said bonds within 10 days from the time of award, said check to be retained by said City of Xenia, Ohio, if said condition is not fulfilled.

The successful bidder is to furnish bond without charge to the City thereof, and subject to the approval of the City Commission.

The city reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The tax duplicate for the year 1918, was $10,791,430.00.

The indebtedness for the City of Xenia, Ohio, including all indebtedness except the above proposed bond issue, is as follows:

General Bonds $248,900.00

CRIPPLED GIRL DROWNS IN BIG TANK OF WATER

Miss Florence Matthews, 23 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. W. Matthews, was drowned in a galvanized tank of water in the yard at the home of her parents five miles from Xenia, off the Cincinnati pike, about 5:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Matthews was crippled and was subject to attacks of epilepsy. While suffering from one of these spells she fell face downward into the tank of water, and although rescued within a few minutes, efforts at resuscitation were in vain. Her niece, Miss Hazel Matthews, who was in the barnyard, some distance from the house, saw her fall, and hurried to the house to give the alarm, but before she reached the dwelling, Mrs. Matthews had reached her daughter's side, and lifted her from the water.

Dr. A. C. and H. S. Messenger were called and arrived at the house as soon as possible. Threshing had been in progress all day at the Matthews farm, and supper was being prepared for the workmen. Miss Matthews who because of her physical condition was unable to perform many household tasks, entered the kitchen and asked her mother if there was not something she could do to help in the preparations for the meal. Her mother assigned her to some simple task which took her into the yard and she was gone only a few minutes when the tragedy occurred.

The dead girl is survived by her father and stepmother, a brother Raymond, a half sister, Miss Mary and two half brothers Howard and Ralph. Funeral services will be held at the home at 1:30 Friday.

SUN'S RAYS SET JUMPERS ON FIRE

Kansas City, Mo., July 18.—Frank Robinson, a farmer of Oak Grove, Jackson County, while driving his binder in a wheat field, smelled smoke. He got down and examined the machine, but could find nothing wrong, and was about to drive on when he felt a painful sensation in his right arm. His clothing was afire.

Investigation showed that the oil which had soaked into his clothing had been set afire by the hot rays of the sun. No serious damage was done except to spoil a pair of jumpers.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money for Less Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges. Mr. James H. Allen, suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Sayre & Hemphill has been appointed agent for Allenrhu in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

"Before I knew about 'Neutrone Prescription 99' I tried all kinds of tablets and liniments, but one bottle of Neutrone Prescription 99 helped me so much that I am never without it now, all pain and swelling is gone and I feel like doing things."

"Neutrone Prescription 99" certainly must be a wonder, the druggist replied. "We have never handled anything like it, they all say the same", 50c and $1.00 the bottle.

ALL LOUD IN THEIR PRAISE OF
"NEUTRONE PRESCRIPTION 99"

A working man buying a bottle of "Neutrone Prescription 99" was asked how it was helping him.

"Helping me," he replied. "Why, there is nothing on earth like it. You don't know how my poor swollen, stiff joints and muscles pained and burned. I was nearly crazy with suffering and the worry of losing so much time and pay."

Get the Right Machine First
THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE HAVE UNSATISFACTORY MACHINES ON THEIR HANDS
There is no magic in the name Suction or Vacuum Cleaner as thousands have found to their sorrow. The amount of dirt that the ordinary vacuum cleaner leaves in the rugs is most disheartening to the woman who buys in good faith, expecting thorough cleaning as promised.
If you will simply get clear the essential points that an efficient electric cleaner must possess, the selection of The Hoover will stand out clearly as the proper one to purchase and satisfaction is assured.
It is the machine that is right in every sense of the word. It is just as right in materials and workmanship as it is right in mechanical construction and principles of cleaning.

Runes.
"Runes" were the letters of the alphabet used by the old Teutonic tribes. The word means hidden lore. The earliest runes were merely fanciful signs supposed to possess mysterious power. The letters were even considered magical, and were cast into the air, written separately upon chips, to fall as fate determined, on a cloth and to be read by the interpreters. The association of the runic letters with heathen superstitions caused the first Christian teachers to discourage their use.

IRVIN HARNER HURT WHEN MOTORCYCLE RUNS INTO AUTO

When the motorcycle on which he was riding collided with a Studebaker automobile on Washington street, in Dayton Monday afternoon, Irvin Harner, of the dry cleaning firm of Kester & Harner, received a badly injured right foot, in which the ligaments were torn.

Mr. Harner was riding with a Mr. Harris, of Spring Valley, when the accident happened. He was removed at once to the office of a nearby doctor where an X-ray picture was taken to determine the nature of the injury. He was brought home by the driver of the Studebaker in his machine.

NOTICE

The article as published in Wednesday's Gazette has quite a misleading influence in regard to the action of the Social Service League toward the merging of the Social Service League with the Red Cross Unit of this place.

Quite a number of the members of the Social Service League were present at the League's meeting Monday evening, and unanimously expressed themselves as not being in favor of any merger at present, until further investigation of said matter is made, and was deferred until next regular meeting.

Dr. McClellan gave a very interesting talk regarding the Red Cross work, and the Social Service League's work.

and personally expressed his opinion as disapproving any such merger.

Signed,
Mrs. Carrie R. Faulkner,
Asst. Sec., Social Service League.

DRINKS OUNCE OF TINCTURE OF IODINE

As a result of taking tincture of iodine Thursday morning, Mrs. I. Friedman is seriously ill at her home on North King street. Her recovery is expected however, should inflammation of the stomach and oesophagus not result.

Mrs. Friedman was alone with her two little children at 7 o'clock when she swallowed the poison. Her 10 year old daughter, Nanette, called a physician, who administered an emetic which probably saved her life. Mrs. Friedman said that she took an ounce of the poison.

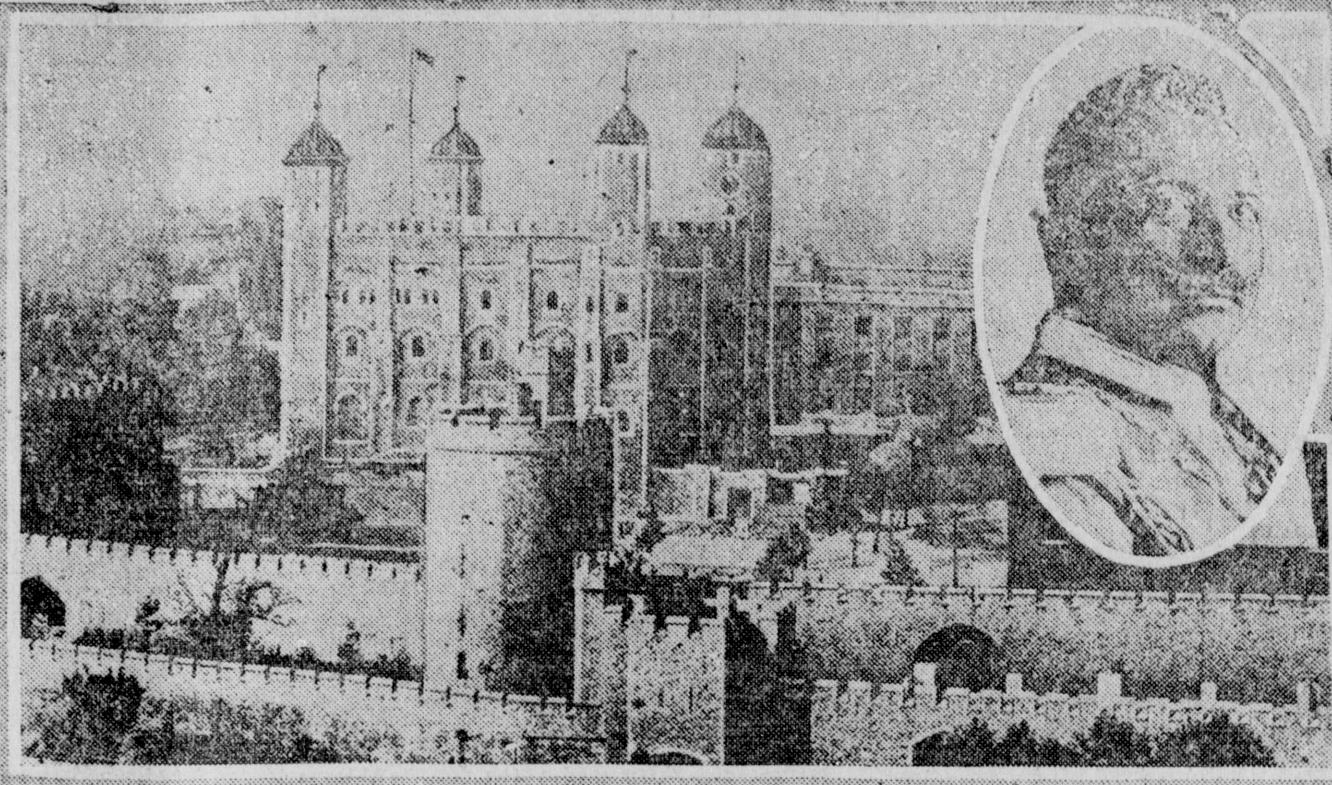

"Safety First."

Two recent cases of fainting in the bath recall the advice that the late Sir William Hingston, M. D., of Montreal was wont to give his patients. "Fill the bath," he used to say, "pull out the plug and then get in. If you faint in the bath the water will run out before you drown."

Juvenile Rebuke.

Little five-year-old Mary, who had great kindness of heart for all the animal creation, saw a hen preparing to gather her chickens under her wings, and shouted earnestly: "Oh, don't sit down on those beautiful little birds, you great big, ugly, old rooster!"

HISTORIC TOWER OF LONDON WHICH MAY BE FUTURE "HOME OF KAISER."

Historic Tower of London may be Kaiser's prison.

A general view of the historic tower of London, showing the many buildings which make up England's large structure with four cupolas is the famed "White Tower," which was called it, is certainly this year living up to its traditions. It is increasingly popular, it would seem; for President Bestor announced yesterday that the attendance had already broken the record for any previous second week of July.

It is keeping up its American traditions, too. Americanism is in the air, and Chautauqua is nothing if not genuinely progressive and up to the forward-looking minute. The national keynote is struck in almost every program. One flourishing organization, the Americanization Conference, devotes its whole energy to the propagation of national spirit; and Prof. Thomas F. Moran of Purdue University, gave yesterday to its members a most stimulating address on "American Ideals Worth Perpetuating." Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the Chautauqua Woman's Club, and ex-president of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs, in a strong and dramatic speech, Wednesday, presented a plea for the erection of community houses which should perpetuate the ideals for which men fought in the war and should serve as meeting places for American and foreign-

Blood Poisoning Results From Slight Scratch

"Special Dispatch to The Enquirer. "Wheeling, W. Va., June 15.—Dr. J. H. ... President of ... College, died at a local hospital early today. Death due to blood poisoning, which was caused by a slight scratch which he received on his hand 10 days ago."

The above is an actual quotation from the Cincinnati Enquirer, with names omitted.

Give every injury, no matter how slight, immediate attention. Safety suggests that you keep a bottle of Home-tone-e-h always at hand for emergency use. Its highly concentrated antiseptic qualities make only a slight application necessary to thoroughly disinfect any scratch or cut. No danger of infection when Home-tone-e-h (The Original Jones) Liniment is used and yet its action is so mild that it may be freely applied to severe wounds, burns and scalds. Its soothing and healing power is almost magical. Don't risk being without it. Get a bottle from your druggist to-day. A 4-oz. bottle 25c. Large household size, enough to last a year, 50c. Fifty years' use proves it to be the most reliable household antiseptic. "The kind your daddy used, with my dad's picture on the yellow wrapper." The Dr. J. C. Jones Co., S. Charleston, Ohio.

CHAUTAUQUA IS MOST AMERICAN OF ALL AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS

Chautauqua, N. Y., July 17.—This "most American of all American institutions," as President Roosevelt called it, is certainly this year living up to its traditions. It is increasingly popular, it would seem; for President Bestor announced yesterday that the attendance had already broken the record for any previous second week of July.

It is keeping up its American traditions, too. Americanism is in the air, and Chautauqua is nothing if not genuinely progressive and up to the forward-looking minute. The national keynote is struck in almost every program. One flourishing organization, the Americanization Conference, devotes its whole energy to the propagation of national spirit; and Prof. Thomas F. Moran of Purdue University, gave yesterday to its members a most stimulating address on "American Ideals Worth Perpetuating." Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the Chautauqua Woman's Club, and ex-president of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs, in a strong and dramatic speech, Wednesday, presented a plea for the erection of community houses which should perpetuate the ideals for which men fought in the war and should serve as meeting places for American and foreign-born around one common hearthstone. Even in musical programs the patriotic note is sounded. An "All American Program" was presented in the amphitheater, on Wednesday, also, by Mr. James Robert Gillette, which revealed to some of us an unsuspected mastery of technique and tone in our young American composers.

But the Chautauqua platforms are clearing-houses for ideas on all sorts of subjects. If every member of the Woman's Club returns to her friends without a marked increase in her personal charm, it will certainly not be the fault of Miss Bragg, of the school of expression, who told them, Tuesday afternoon, in a personally charming way, just "How to be Interesting." Professor Edwin Mims, Vanderbilt University, is giving a remarkably effective series of lectures on "Right Thinking," and Miss Anna Barrows spoke yesterday in the amphitheater on the "Education of the Eater." Miss Ada Van Stone Harris stresses the disastrous combination in the educational world of the low cost of teaching with the high cost of living.

Attorney General Palmer will speak July 26, on some subject connected with his branch of the administration and Mr. Earl Barnes, of Philadelphia, one of the most popular of all in Chautauqua lectures, will give in the first weeks of August a group of addresses on the New Nations of Europe. Indeed, with apologies to Lewis Carroll, Chautauqua's so full of a number of things, I am sure we should all be as happy as kings.

The drama this week had as its exponent, Professor S. F. Clark, Chicago University, who presented Israel Zangwill's The Melting Pot from the stage of the amphitheater. Attention was called to the Arts and Crafts department of the schools by Mr. Royal W. Farnum, New York, who said jocularly, "Here in Chautauqua, of all places in this country, is to be found a collection of all the arts that go to make a nation. Only two things have we not done here, architecture and pottery."

Ohio is well represented here in this Summer School of the Lake. She ranks third in the number of members of the Woman's Club and contributes ten members to the Summer Schools Faculty. There are hundreds of Ohioans registered at the Bureau of Information and among them a half dozen from Xenia: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Little, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Armstrong and Miss Dorothy Armstrong.

Meantime Chautauqua's skies are blue, the chestnut and the lindens are in bloom, and the hounds of summer follow traces of the spring. E. B. C.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Cedarville Herald—Little David Lowery had a narrow escape from death, when he fell beneath the wheels of a straw stacker belonging to a threshing outfit, when he attempted to ride on the vehicle. He was badly bruised but no bones broken.

Wilmington's flag tower, since Superintendent Ballard and Lineman Moon have completed its wiring for incandescent lamps, presents a most beautiful appearance and the town is proud of it.—Wilmington Journal.

The Xenia boys, Harner, Orr, McGervey, Wilson, Piper, Smith and Kelly, who have been having a royal time in camp at Jacoby's dam, broke camp this morning and are again citizens of Xenia.

The narrow entrance to Woodland Cemetery is to be widened to 18 feet and a new pavement of vitrified brick is to be put in for pedestrians.

Life a Constant Battle.

Special service at Zion Sunday morning. Mrs. Lottie Hackett will render a vocal selection. Special music by the choir, Dean Jones and other distinguished friends from Wilberforce will be present. The service begins at 10:45 a. m. Please be on time.

Daniels Post G. A. R. and Relief Corps will meet in joint session at the residence of Moses Swisher, Friday night, instead of Friday afternoon. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. Stephen B. Lee, representing the Lexington Colored Fair Association, is in Xenia advertising the Fair which will be held August 18-23. He says that the Fair will be bigger than ever with all new features. Many people from here usually attend this Fair.

THEATERS

BIJOU.

Miss Marguerite Clark has an exceedingly well adapted and clever photoplay in her latest Paramount production "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" a picturization of that popular novel by Alice Hegan Rice.

All who love optimism and are admirers of an ideal home life, should see this wonderful production to the screen dramatization of which Miss Clark adds considerable charm. The cast includes Mary Carr, Vivia Ogden, Gladys Valerie, Gareth Hughes, Jack McLean, Robert Milash, Maud Hosford, Mary Davis, Anita Brown, Lawrence Johnson, Marion Stewart, Lola Hernandez, May McAvoy and Wanda Valle.

ORPHIUM.

Taylor Holmes, who was a raving success in his latest Triangle production staged here, has a new Triangle vehicle in "It's a Bear" which will show at the Orphium Theater Friday.

This picture is replete with quick action, humorous situations that furnish Mr. Holmes every opportunity for the display of his unquestionably light-hearted talents. The picture makes you laugh and at the same time instills in you a buoyant spirit of determination.

Disillusioned.

A novelist who had learned that a certain book seller was a great admirer of his works resolved to call upon the tradesman and introduce himself. Having done so, he noticed that the manager scrutinized him rather critically, but freely entered into conversation. When the novelist was about to depart he said: "Now you have met me, I suppose you will want to sell my books more than ever?" "Perhaps I shall," was the answer, "but, all the same, I wish I had not seen you."

Her Occupation.

Louise's mother was a busy club woman and was always serving on some committee. When Louise came home from her first day at kindergarten her mother said: "Well, dear, what did you do today?" "O," said Louise, with a patronizing air, "I was appointed on a committee to string beads."

NERVOUSNESS ON THE DECLINE

Doctors Encouraged, They Hold Out Hope For All

"Nothing wrong with my nerves," we hear it at home, at work and every where. A man or woman might better have a broken leg than a shattered run down nervous system.

Overwork and worry drains the nerve cells and centers of all their strength and vitality, then you get your sleepless nights, poor blood, nervousness, worry and fear. The better doctors of today know just what to do in cases of this kind. A few weeks' use of Phosphated Iron rarely fails to strengthen and feed the Phosphated hungry nerve centers.

Phosphated Iron certainly does take hold. The way the majority of patients come back is remarkable. What a change in appearance, too. The cheeks become filled out and flushed with the healthy ruddy glow that only pure red ironized blood can give. Eyes sparkle, their step has the spring and swing of youth and their whole system seems to be alive with energy and good spirit.

Mr. Nervous Man or Woman, Phosphated Iron will do all this for you if you will give it a chance. Do not drag around all in and half dead another day when help is so near. Get busy! and be a live one once again!

To insure doctors and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets. Insist on capsules.

Finding Out

By MELVILLE TRAFFON

Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.

"It's young Ned who is troubling my mind," spoke Abner Mills, with something of an anxious sigh.

"Oh, 'tis?" rejoined Moses Parr, cronies and familiar of half a century's standing. "What's he up to, Abner?"

"He's in love," enlightened the other. "You know what marriage means—misery, if there's a misfitting."

"Why should there be that?" propounded Moses. You and I have each a son and our lives have just about centered about them since we became lonely old widowers. Well, when my lad got moonstruck two years ago I just let him have his swing. But I watched and looked up the girl—oh, you bet I did! I hired an investigator and he made me a report. All through one month. There wasn't much that I didn't know about Miss Blake and her forbears. Bless her dear heart! It was almost cruel to think of looking her up, as if she was some common criminal, but I wanted to be sure everything was all right."

"H'm! you give me an idea," muttered old Abner, "only I'll be my own detective. Here's the facts: Ned was away for two months with a chum who lives down country. While there it seems he met a Miss Eva Dodson vacationing with an old aunt. From what I gather the girl is poor, modest, respectable. Ned hasn't said a word about it, but I ran across a letter he had written and it revealed the whole layout. I see what's coming—engagement, marriage. I shan't try to hinder it, if they are likely to be happy, but I'm bound to be dead certain about just that."

So, unconscious of the fact that the cherished secret of his soul had been discovered, Ned Mills went on loving Eva Dodson and writing to her. She was surely his ideal! She wore no engagement ring, for she had insisted that Ned inform his family of his decision and try the test of a two months' separation. But Ned had procrastinated the making of a confidant of his father, for he knew his ways, and that his approval of the prospective match might be a slow-moving operation.

"I am going to spend a few days on business in the city, Ned," spoke his father one day. "You look after things around the store till I come back, will you?"

"Sure enough and glad enough," acquiesced Ned in his usual hearty, accommodating way, and Mr. Mills departed, proceeded, indeed, to the city, but began a mysterious series of actions which, had the same been followed by a stranger, would have puzzled and startled him. Always precise and careful as to his attire, Mr. Mills spent an hour in the shop of a second-hand clothing man. When he emerged there was little left of the prosperous, well-dressed merchant. A faultless suit had been exchanged for one coarse of fabric, shabby and threadbare.

It was to Ferndale that Mr. Mills proceeded, and that was the place he had learned Miss Dodson was living temporarily. When he located the home of her aunt, old Abner approached it in a labored, limping way that at once excited the sympathy of the loveliest young lady that he had ever met. She came to the kitchen door attired in a neat enveloping apron, beamed to the elbows, as dainty and fresh looking as the pies and cookies she had just made.

The sad tale of the aged arch-schemer, posing as an indigent wanderer, won him a meal, then work, which he did manfully. All he was after was to have an opportunity to study a possible prospective daughter-in-law. Fortune favored him. He was given a room over the kitchen, he was engaged to do odd jobs about the place. He found Eva the idol of all the little ones in the neighborhood, and dutiful to her aged aunt, in fact a model girl in every way. He wrote in his memorandum book the sentiment one day: "Eva Dodson is poor and humble, but she is well worthy my son, and I shall tell Ned so!"

That memorandum book the old man lost one day, and it was returned to him by Eva. Then upon another day he was confronted by a staidler. He was just outside the kitchen when the aunt entered bearing a small metal box.

"Eva," she spoke, "how careless you are, leaving all this money and bonds on your bureau. Is it the $10,000 the lawyer brought you?"

"Yes, aunt," responded Eva, "I suppose I had better send them to the bank for safe keeping," and Abner Mills pricked up his ears mightily at this extraordinary revelation. The following morning he announced to his kind-hearted hostess that he must be on his way. Eva accompanied him to the gate.

"Good-by, Mr. Mills," she spoke, a gleam of mingled merriment and mischief in her eyes.

"Eh, how's that?" exclaimed the astonished Abner. "You knew all along?"

"No, Mr. Mills, not until the day you lost your memorandum book, and I ask forgiveness for my stray glance at it, and will you please tell Ned that his humble country girl has become a real heiress?"

"You have turned the tables on me pretty cleverly," admitted Abner Mills, "and if you are willing to take an old tramp for a father-in-law, I am most agreeable to the relationship."

GOVERNOR LOWDEN'S BOOM FOR PRESIDENCY REACHES CAPITAL.

Governor F. O. Lowden

The boom of Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, for the Republican nomination for President has been launched in Washington by Congressman Frank L. Smith, who is also the chairman of the Illinois State Central Republican Committee, according to a report from Washington. Congressman Smith, in his statement, says Governor Lowden is offered to the party as a candidate not as a mere "favorite son," but as a man big enough for the job.

Aboriginal Superstition.

The Australian blacks weave the bushy tails of their "dingo" dogs into their beards to make them longer. Indians of the Puget Sound region make blankets of dogs' hair. Natives of Borneo believe that black dogs are the chosen familiars of sorcerers, and he who laughs when a dog crosses the path will be turned to stone.

YANKEE HERO FLIER IS MISTAKEN FOR RAILWAY GUARD

Boston, July 18.—Lieutenant-Commander Albert C. Read, U. S. N. commander of the NC-4 the first flying machine to cross the Atlantic Ocean, declared as he got aboard a train on his way to visit his old home at South Hanson that he was "a youth to fortune and to fame unknown."

Hurrying into the great trainshed with a traveling bag in one hand and with Mrs. Read at his side, the intrepid airman was stopped by an excited woman. "Say, boy, when does the next train for Hingham leave?" she demanded.

Embarrassed, Read explained that he was not a railroad station guard and that his uniform was that of the Naval Air Service.

Music and Appetite.

Many great musical composers had exceptionally large appetites. When Handel dined alone at a restaurant he ordered a meal for three. Haydn, yet more voracious, delighted in dining alone, and was known to consume a meal that would have satisfied five ordinary appetites.

CEDARVILLE BOY SITS OUTSIDE CASTLE GATES WATCHING FOR KAISER

"Ted" Richards of Cedarville, who is affectionately known as "Chief" to everyone in Cedarville and whose happy disposition has gained friends for him throughout the county, especially in baseball circles, is in receipt of the following very interesting letter from Fred F. Marshall, of Cedarville, who is now with the American army of occupation. Mr. Marshall was engaged throughout the war in special work as a photographer and was one of the official photographers at the peace conference. He is now at The Hague in the Netherlands and has the distinction of being stationed in the same hotel in which the Queen of the Netherlands makes her home. The letter follows:

June 10th, 1919.

My dear friend "Chief":

I am just in happy receipt of your lengthy and interesting letter dated May 15th. Such letters as you send with their "inside dope" and intimacies on our conservative little community are the kind that help to bridge the tide for we unfortunates who are destined to remain on this side to see the game through, although it is the last half of the ninth and the score stands ten to nothing in the home team's favor.

An ideal June evening is just gathering its fragments of twilight beneath the leafy canopy that is interlaced above the beautiful Lange Voorhout leading up to the plain, yet quaint old palace of the Queen Mother; the robins and the canaries fill the air with a delirium of song that mingle with the strains of a vagabond violinist, who has stopped at the terrace of the Cafe Royal to serenade the patrons and pick up a few pennies. A cool, soft breeze is floating in through the open window, faintly rustling the curtains and bringing a breath of the ocean. Fluffy, rolling clouds are floating in from the sea with a hint of ensuing thunder showers. Against them, high above the earth, I can see the tiny specks of hundreds of storks returning from their day of forage to the roosting places about the town. Tall church spires lift sharply against the crimson sky and ever and anon sweet toned bells and mellow chimes burst forth upon the quiet air.

In the distance I can see the magnificent spire of the Peace Palace. A street boy is just passing pouring forth his care-free heart in some simple Holland song and further down the drive among the trees another is rambling along playing a mouth harmonica. Lovers sit on the benches in the dusk and do things that lovers do—open and unreserved, as if they were alone with no one in miles of them. Presently, I see a stately, black cab, drawn by two shining black horses, spinning up the drive. The driver and footman dressed in silk duster and gray plug hat sit stiffly on the high seat. They draw up sharply at the front entrance of the Queen Mother's palace, and a uniformed attendant immediately spreads a velvet carpet over the steps leading to the cab. In a moment the gray-haired old lady appears together with the queen and the little Princess Wilhelmina. With much bowing and nodding, the shining cab spins away while all along the street I can see the people doffing their hats and bowing low in homage to the peer ladies of the land. True, it is all impressive, yet again it is artificial and not in keeping with such ideals as you and I have been taught to love and uphold.

Bah! How could the queen there help being what she is? Suppose some day when the little princess marries she gives birth to a child, and it proves to be a blooming idiot—it must be the queen or king as the case may be, no matter how brainless.

As far as worthiness is concerned, Chief, it might well be that the cab driver is better fitted to fill the place. Of course, I am giving you the extreme of the thing, but it is true that this country is centuries away from true democracy. However, I don't care to talk about these things and will revert back to something a bit more interesting.

The beauty of the Hague at the present time is faultless and if I didn't love home so well I could spend a delightful summer here. It is the Paris, the Washington, the Berlin or the Netherlands, all in one. You will be surprised to know that half of the town speaks English as well as French and the native language. It is the magnetic pole of the American tourist, and it goes a long way to cater to his whims and fancies, not to mention his pocket-book. To the average Dutchman there are but few Americans who are not millionaires and he figures that all of them are well able to pay at least a double price for everything. Dutch people do not travel much, and I dare say there are hundreds and hundreds of the populace here who have never been so far as the hour's ride to Rotterdam or Amsterdam, despite the fact that there are half a dozen modes of travel and he has his pick of the capital boat, the electric tram, the steam locomotive, the auto bus or the steam train.

The roads are also delightful for bicycle riding and there is a cycle in every family. Everybody rides bicycles here. Dutch people regard America as a country little short of Elysium, yet so far away that an intimate knowledge of its ways of living is unnecessary. Things that come from

there are accepted as "better," yet they don't stop to look into the why's and wherefore's. They see the National cash register and the computing scales in their stores, they watch after the Harley Davidsons, the Indians, the Excelsiors, motor-cycles on the roads; they admire the Overlands, the Cadillacs—and the Fords; they feast on our canned goods, sew on our Singer sewing machines; don our Walkover shoes, drink of "Old Kentucky," sing our popular songs of ten years ago, take snap shots with our Kodaks; laugh and cry over our blood and thunder wild west movie films; attempt the Tango and the Tickle toe—and yet to the average Dutchman America is north and south—a distant race of people, consisting of cow boy, broncho busters, millionaires, a City of New York and a President Wilson. Looking at it from another light, chief, it is great to note how American industry is coming to the front over here in Europe. The time is coming and you will live to see it when Uncle Samuel will cop the world's dominion of trade. Our country is now upon the threshold of the most wonderful period of its history. The "Made in America" die is about to be cast and there won't be a country or spot on the globe where American made goods isn't topping the market and competing all comers. Chief, it is a great thing to be in a foreign country and have people gaze after you and whisper "American." You feel a thrill that makes your step quicken and your chin to peak at a 45 degrees angle heavenward. Yet it is trying sometimes for me so unversed on etiquette and world affairs to assume a poise equal to the occasion. Perhaps you can imagine my embarrassing plight when I first came here after having dined on army chow from a mess kit for three or four months to suddenly step into the saloon of the Hotel des Indes before a bevy of critical lions of world society. No doubt they marveled at the American appetite for it takes more than one dainty dish to fill an Army stomach.

Sunday I am going on another trip

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

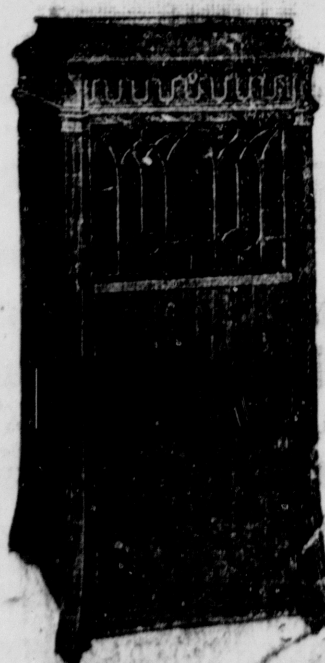

Every drug store in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenbur's, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and go away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment. Allenbur's has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless. Allenbur's relieves at once. Immediately after you start it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenbur's, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenbur's decisively conquers this worst of all diseases and he has instructed Sayre & Hemphill to guarantee it in every instance. adv

Grow Wheat in Western Canada One Crop Often Pays for the Land

Western Canada offers the greatest advantages to home seekers. Large profits are assured. You can buy on easy payment terms.

Fertile Land at $15 to $30 per Acre

Land similar to that which through many years has averaged from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Hundreds of cases are on record where in Western Canada a single crop has paid the cost of land and production. The Governments of the Dominion and Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta want the farmer to prosper, and extend every possible encouragement and help to Grain Growing and Stock Raising.

Though Western Canada offers land at such low figures, the high prices of grain, cattle, sheep and hogs will remain.

Loans for the purchase of stock may be had at low interest; there are good shipping facilities; best of markets; free schools; churches; splendid climate; low taxation (none on improvements).

For particulars as to location of lands for sale, maps, illustrated literature, reduced railway rates, etc., apply to Supr. of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or W. S. Rethery, Interurban Bldg., Columbus, Ohio.

Critic Coins New Word.

GOITRE

Removed for this Springfield, Ohio, Girl by External Remedy.

Ms. Frank Board, 1919 Kater street, Springfield, says in her own home paper the Springfield Daily News: "Sorbol-Quadruple removed a goitre of five years' standing for my daughter, five years ago, and it has never bothered her since. It enlarged her neck 1 1/2 inches and made her a nervous wreck. We despaired for her life. It took less than one bottle to restore her to good health. I am glad to tell any one our experience, even by letter."

Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. After the goitre is removed, the parts are left in a healthy normal condition. Requires ten minutes daily. Get further information from Sayre & Henphill's drug store and drug stores everywhere or write Sorbol company, Mechanicsburg, Ohio.

NEW PARTY IS PROPOSED IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, July 17.—The Daily Mail, a newspaper which has been opposing Premier Lloyd George has stated that Colonel Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, is proposing the formation of a new permanent coalition political party.

The Evening News emphasized the story in its afternoon edition with a streamer headline saying: "The Latest Political Sensation."

Colonel Churchill made a speech at the Criterion restaurant last night, having just returned from a visit to Premier Lloyd George who is recuperating at Criccieth, Wales. It was then the proposal was made public.

The Northcliffe papers "played" the story as a "scoop" over the Chronicle which is close to the premier and which has generally been supposed to be his organ.

The Star, an opposition paper, leads its story with the query:

"Is the premier the leader of the new party?"

Colonel Churchill's plan involves a permanent union of moderates in the coalition of both liberals and unionists.

"A Woman There Was"

BY THEDA BARA.

A woman's reply to Rudyard Kipling's famous poem, "The Vampire."

A woman there was, and her love she gave,

(Even as you and I)

To gain the happiness women crave,

(Which doesn't exist, this side the grave)

But she played the part of a groveling slave,

(Even as you and I)

Oh, the hearts that ache, and the hearts that break!

But how can a girl command

The passion whose power she does not know,

(A passion for one who never can know)

And never can understand?

A woman there was and her youth she spent,

(Even as you and I)

Loving and trusting and well content,

(She fancied her happiness Heaven-sent)

Till she learned, too late, what loving meant

(Even as you and I)

Oh, the truths we learn of the souls that yearn

When a woman's years are spanned,

And all for a man who could not know

(For, being a man, he never could know)

And could not understand.

The woman lost in her desperate game

(Even as you and I)

The man was left with his honored name,

(The moth is scorched in the candle's flame)

And the woman it is who reaps the blame

(Even as you and I)

It isn't the tears nor the bitter years

That sting like a white-hot brand,

It is knowing the man will never know why,

(For, being a man, he can never know why)

And never can understand!

Miss Bara wrote this poem during the filming of her play of the same name, "A Woman There Was."

PROPOSITION FOR SALE OF ROBERTS LAND NOT RECEIVED

Although members of the Xenia Board of Education expected to hear a proposition from the heirs of the Roberts estate, with regard to the tract the board will purchase for the erection of a new school building, at a meeting Wednesday morning they were disappointed in this matter.

Attorney M. J. Hartley, representing the Roberts heirs, was present at the meeting and presented a number of plans for the section, but he did not submit a proposition from Mr. Kauffman, acting for the heirs, as was expected.

Mr. Hartley was requested to have Mr. Kauffman meet with the board, in order that the board and the heirs can get together on the question. No further business was transacted at the meeting.

ANOTHER LITTLE KING PLEADS FOR KAISER

Berlin, July 17.—Former King Frederick August of Saxony, is the latest to plead the ex-kaiser's cause. The former petty monarch has sent a message to King George of England saying:

"Your majesty will understand that the German princes of our dynasty in this moment of our hardest trial will stand by our kaiser. In consideration of your majesty's Christian sentiment, we expect your influence towards dropping the matter of extradition."

FEAR OF BEING TEMPTED KEEPS CONVICTS INSIDE

Auburn, July 17.—Convicts in the oldest prison in use in New York State prefer to stay behind the bars rather than enjoy life in the open as workers in road camps. That is the strange announcement made today by State Superintendent of Prisons Chas. F. Rattigan, who declared that the moral fear of the temptation to escape keeps prisoners at Auburn State Prison from accepting the free life of the road instead of the drab monotony inside the walls.

Auburn Prison is located in the heart of the picturesque Finger Lakes Region and the gangs of convict highway builders are stationed at wild spots along the improved roads linking and circling the Finger Lakes. Many have made acquaintances in the summer colonies. Chances for a getaway are numerous. In this environment, the exceptional lure of the lake country to freedom, to independence and to recreation in the zone which was the playground of the Indian, actuates the men in declining to take a chance on resisting the temptation to flee, according to Superintendent Rattigan.

In virtually all cases where escapes have been effected from road camps, the convicts have later been apprehended. Their sentences were then extended. It is the grim fear of this possibility which the superintendent asserts is keeping the men in gray from the woods and glens and limpid waters of the Finger Lakes.

Total of Fourteen.

Put your mathematical friend to the test by asking him to name five uneven figures which, when added together, total 14. After he has given it up set down for him three ones and the figure 11. If he argues that 11 is only one figure, tell him that 11 is made up of two figures. If that solution doesn't satisfy him give him this one: Four ones equal four. Set down another one in front of the four and you have fourteen.

Famo Does Stop Seborrhea The Dandruff Disease

If you have dandruff, you have Seborrhea. If you have Seborrhea, you will have falling hair and itching scalp and finally—if the seborrhea reaches the sebaceous glands—baldness. If you use Famo you can kill the bacilli that cause the Seborrhea. If it is falling out your hair is fighting for its life.

Seborrhea Kills Hair

As fast as nature grows new hair the Seborrhea germ kills it off. Unless you kill the germ with Famo, the new hair will grow weaker and weaker, and finally fall altogether. Seborrhea attacks the hair like Pyorrhea attacks the teeth.

Famo is a formula worked out by one of the great pharmaceutical houses in Detroit. These great laboratories supply ninety per cent. of all the physicians and pharmacists in America. In one of them, after three years' work, skilled chemists found Famo. Scientists now know that Seborrhea causes falling hair, and finally baldness. These Detroit chemists say that Famo kills Seborrhea. They say it will not only save hair, but grow it—beautiful, luxuriant hair. In Famo these chemists have combined ingredients they have supplied thousands of times to physicians.

Famo Revolutionary

Never before was this wonder-working formula applied to the growth of the hair. Famo is revolutionary, and works revolutionary results. Not a drop of alcohol is used in its preparation—an unheard of thing. Famo chemists said, "Alcohol hurts the hair and hastens, grayness. We will find other ways to hold it together." They succeeded.

Famo Stops Itching

Famo gives to the hair new lustre and intensifies the natural color of the hair. You will note beneficial results from the first application.

The dandruff scale is dissolved and disappears.

Famo penetrates the scalp and gives health to the roots of the hair. It stops all itching of the scalp. It retards grayness. Every member of the family should use it. Even if you do not have dandruff Famo will make the hair more healthy and beautiful.

Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters. Applications may be had at the better barber shops.

It comes in two sizes—a small size at 35 cents and an extra large bottle at $1.00. Your money will be returned if you are not satisfied.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhean excretion forms in scales or flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR AT DAYTON "WORKS"

Dayton, July 18.—There is a shortage of labor at the Dayton work house. The city is erecting a new prison at the farm near the corporation and the buildings are going up by convict labor. Everything went smoothly enough until the state went dry and no where are only about a hundred available for the work when in the old days there were almost always 200 or more.

HERE IS WOMAN WHO MARRIED SEVEN MEN

Steuensville, July 18.—Mrs. Della Hay Holt Graham Perry, aged 40, is in the county jail here awaiting trial on the charge of bigamy, of which she has been indicted by the grand jury. She is said to have admitted to Jefferson county authorities that she had married seven husbands. "Perry," "Graham" and "Holt" are said to be the most recently acquired husbands by this fascinating woman.

up in the neighborhood of Ameringen to see the habitude of "hermit" Bill Wilhelm. Not long ago I was there and sat for a long time beneath the trees that bordered a canal that ran quietly along by the court yard gate. The old devil has a picturesque old place in which to pass his days of exile but I'm sure his hard heart longs for Potsdam and Chaussee Unter Den Linden. Kaiser Wilhelm Charlottenburger and other places about his old hang-out. As I sat there in the shade of the fine old trees and watched the water drifting sleepily by I could not but marvel and meditate on the strange circumstance that could lead me here in this sequestered spot not a hundred yards from this world celebrity—this perpetrator of the worlds suffering—the direct cause of all of this misery, these fields of dead these stretches of ruin and wretchedness. To think that he was harbored there behind those very walls almost within a stone's throw. Can you imagine the inspiration, the thrill of adventure that coursed through me. Here was I in a situation that only comes to soldiers in dreams. They often picture themselves stealing up to the kaiser's palace and kidnapping him single handed, yet to be actually placed in a position where you could attempt such a project and sheared of all of its romantic climaxes is a different story. It would be an easy matter however to remain here in this quiet spot until nightfall as not a soul seemed near, or take note of my presence among the thick brambles and gnarled trees. There were two Dutch soldiers standing guard at the front gateway opening to the drive that led up to the old Castle, but it would not be a difficult matter to scale the wall here at the rear and slip among the shrubbery in the garden thence to the castle; awaiting until the next day hidden among the thick bushes for the knave to come out for his daily walk in the garden. Perhaps there would be two attendants along or in the neighborhood, but I have the advantage of surprise. I could then await the opportune moment when he wandered a bit to himself and then step quietly out give him a rap on his bean and proceed to drag him back through the bushes to the foot of the rear wall haul him over with a rope, drop him in the waiting auto and speed with him across the border to Belgium. This all looks good on paper. Chief, but the best I could accomplish would be an easy cold blood murder and I don't want to assume the role—so I just sat there watching the lazy water slip by and wondered how near earth I and the wild-flower at my foot, a Bellwort, ever happened to grace this spot so far from home. Life and youth is certainly mysterious.

But although such experience might seem romantic to you Chief, I am happy to relate a still better one. Most every evening after work is done and the office is closed I don my one and only beloved blue serge and hop on the rattling little steam tram that joggles you down along the banks of the Ski Canal to the historical quaint little town of Delft with its many old churches and tall spires, its hump back bridges and its shaded canals. I have found a rather singular attraction there—er-a-a and she don't eat smoked eels or wear wooden shoes either. I think I have spent some of the happiest evenings of my life in this wonderful little village with "Rika." Sitting on the front balcony of her house one looks down on the quiet canal bordered with its uniform lime trees with now and then a canal boat poled laboriously yet noiselessly along through the town laden with cheese or beer or butter or flowers. Above the trees lifts a great spire that leans dangerously like the tower of Pisa. It is the old church of William of Orange and just across from it stands the very house where he was so cruelly murdered. It is known as the Prinsenhof. I have often walked about the place and even in the court yard where the custodian always points the hole in the wall made by one of the bullets that killed the prince. I have fallen in love with Delft and its quaint old streets and places so hallowed with antiquity and historical traditions and facts, and of an evening as I sit there on the balcony above the quiet canal sipping tea from a genuine old Delft faience. (Perhaps you know of the notorious "Delft Ware") and listening to the mellow chimes tolling from the bell-fries with the storks winging toward their nest on the chimney tops—feel a spirit of real romance stealing over me until from out of the stillness Rika addressing me in Dutch and I must muster up all of my energy toward the laborious attempt at a reply—in Dutch. Exit Romance.

Well, Chief, I hope you'll let this pass as a reply to your kind letter. It is a poor one I admit but here of late it has been hard for me to concentrate on anything other than thoughts of home as I have information to the effect that within the course of the next ten days I am to proceed back to headquarters at the Pathe laboratories at Paris which I think is the first lap of my journey homeward.

Here is luck to you and best wishes to all of the boys and remember me to your dear mother.

P. S.—By the way Chief, I was talking to a Dutchman barber here the other day who says that he has been to America. I asked him if he knew anyone there and he studied a while and then said "Whoy, Yah Meijner, Ik ken aan man vot iss by der name of Teddy Richards vote liffs in der town von Zederville und vot spake all tide off baze pool-baze pool baze pool. He has aan shop daar in dis town vaar he brangt all de boys und de manns und spake mit dem off baze-pool. I dink dat he not all tide spake vot is de trute but de Xenia Gazette put all vot he have in hiss head vor de people to raad und vos it not vor mine

HELD LIABLE FOR PROPERTY DAMAGE

Wichita, Kan., July 18.—Tenants are held liable for the damage and destruction of houses they rent, according to Judge Jesse Wall, of the Municipal court. Judge Wall gave this decision in the case of Mrs. Nan-nie Senning, against Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Kyle, who rented from her.

The wall paper was marked, lattice work torn, floors scarred by heavy furniture, window shades ripped, 25 nail holes in the wall and other marks on the house after nine months' occupancy by the Kyles, said the plaintiff. She secured damages amounting to $70.
